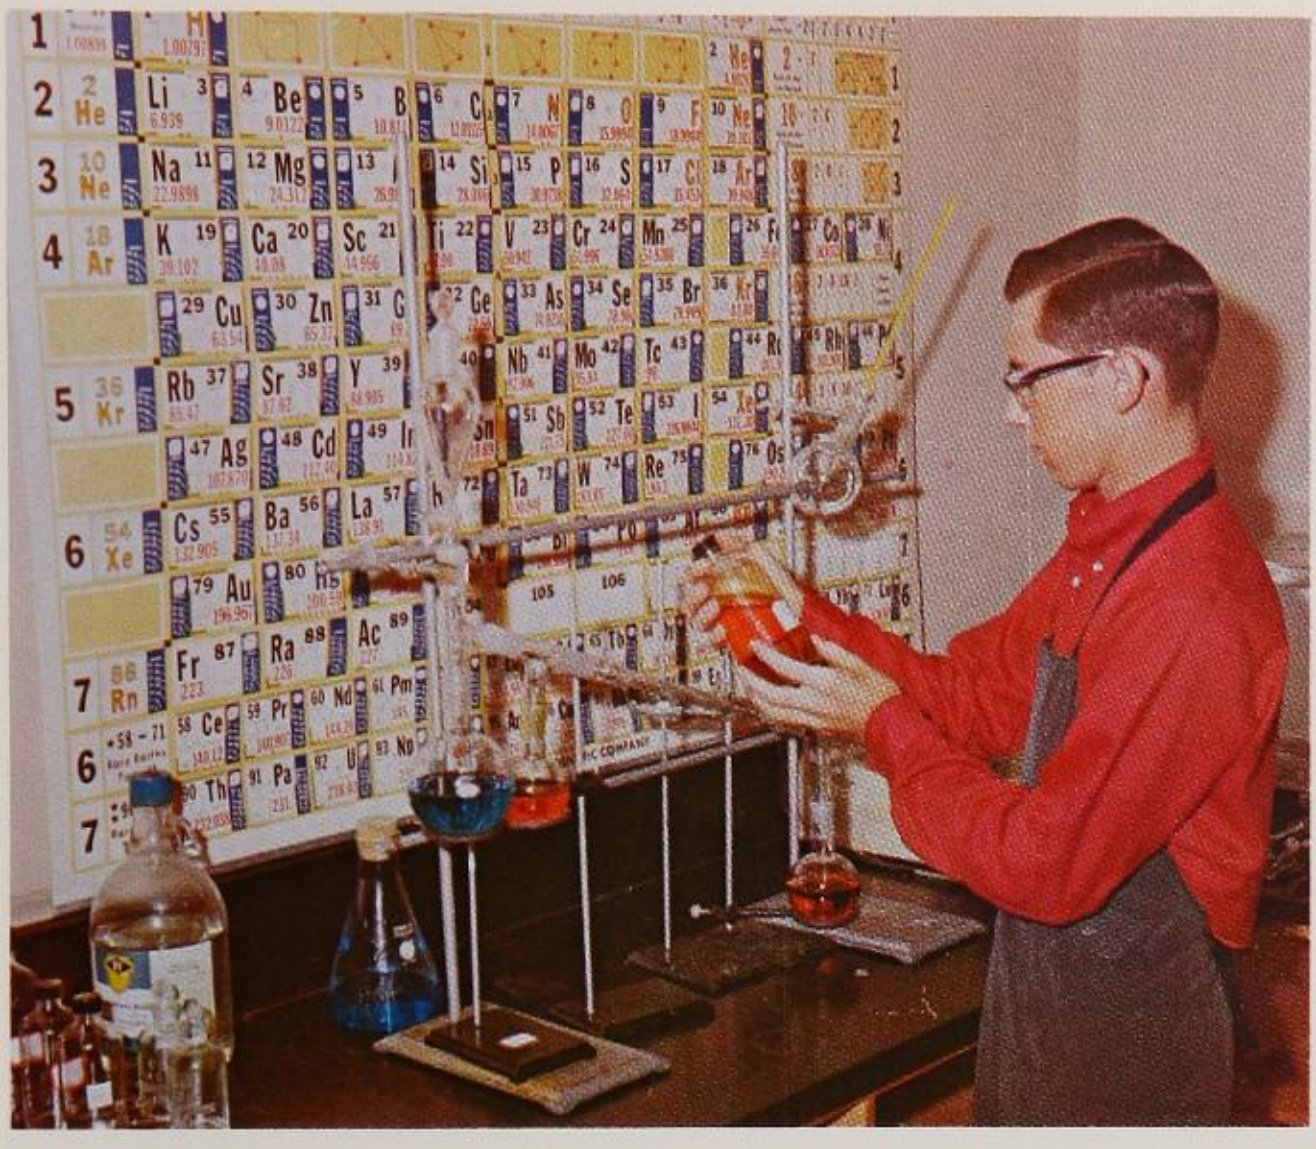
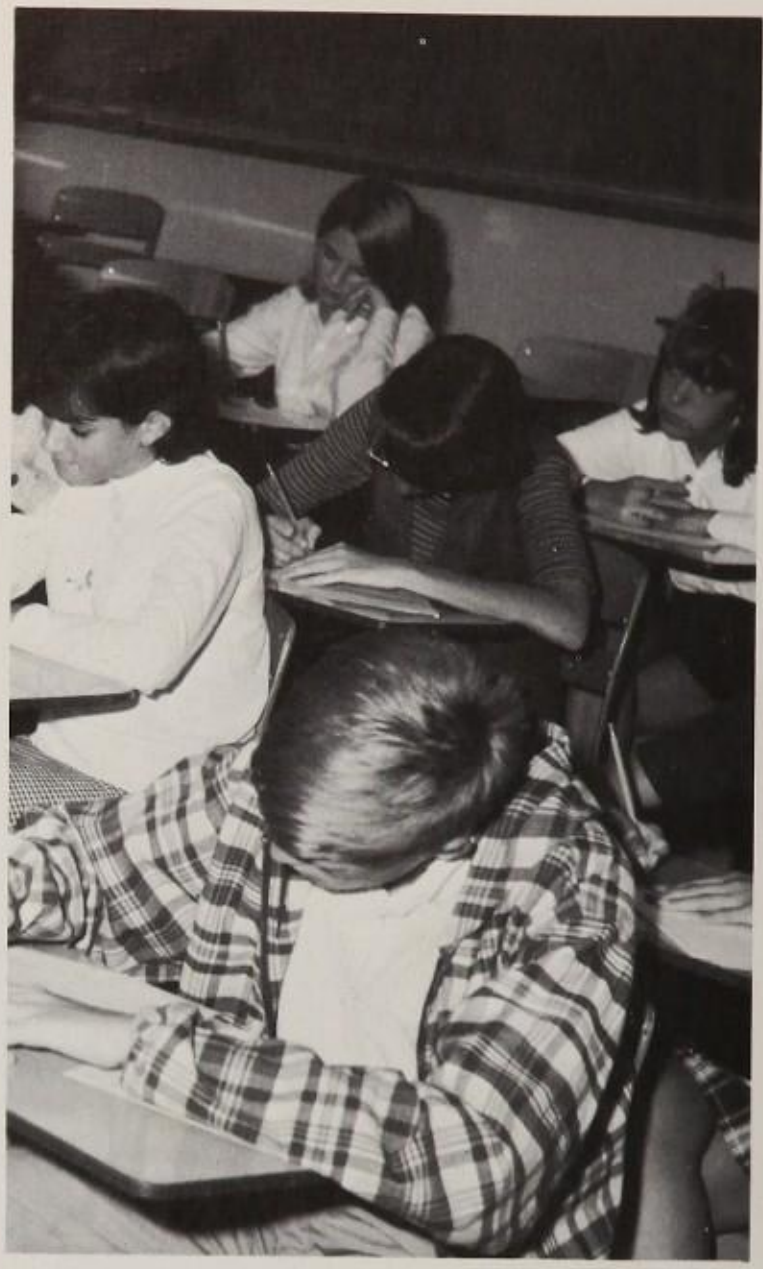
A Youth's World Includes Knowledge

Knowledge is Coral Park. We have had the opportunity to learn the written word and also we have been fortunate in having a faculty to help us apply this knowledge. The root of life is knowledge and we can be sure that the seed has been skillfully planted.



A Youth's World Includes Work

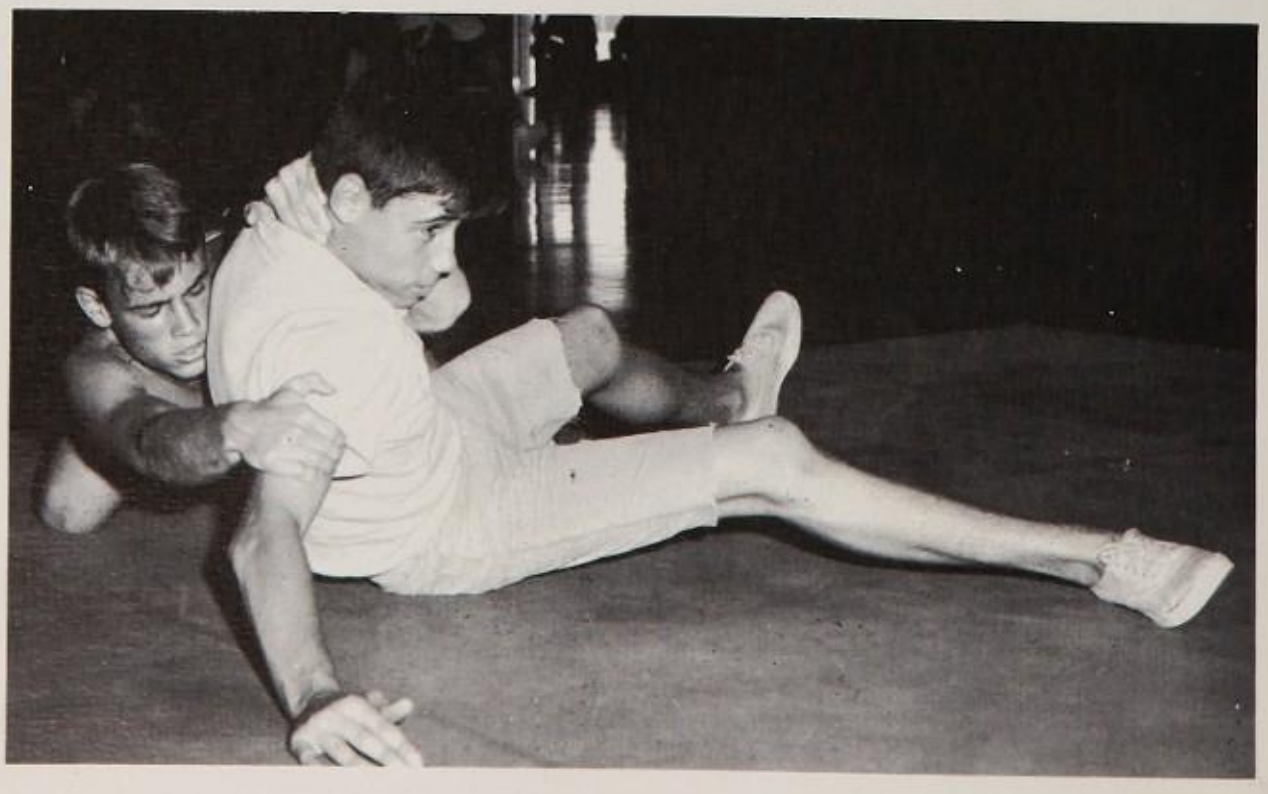
Work is not only the labor of toil, but also the labor of love and the labor of interest. Coral Park has given us many opportunities in our chosen areas to work with and for our school. Whether it be in music or in mathematics, we have had our chance to excel.

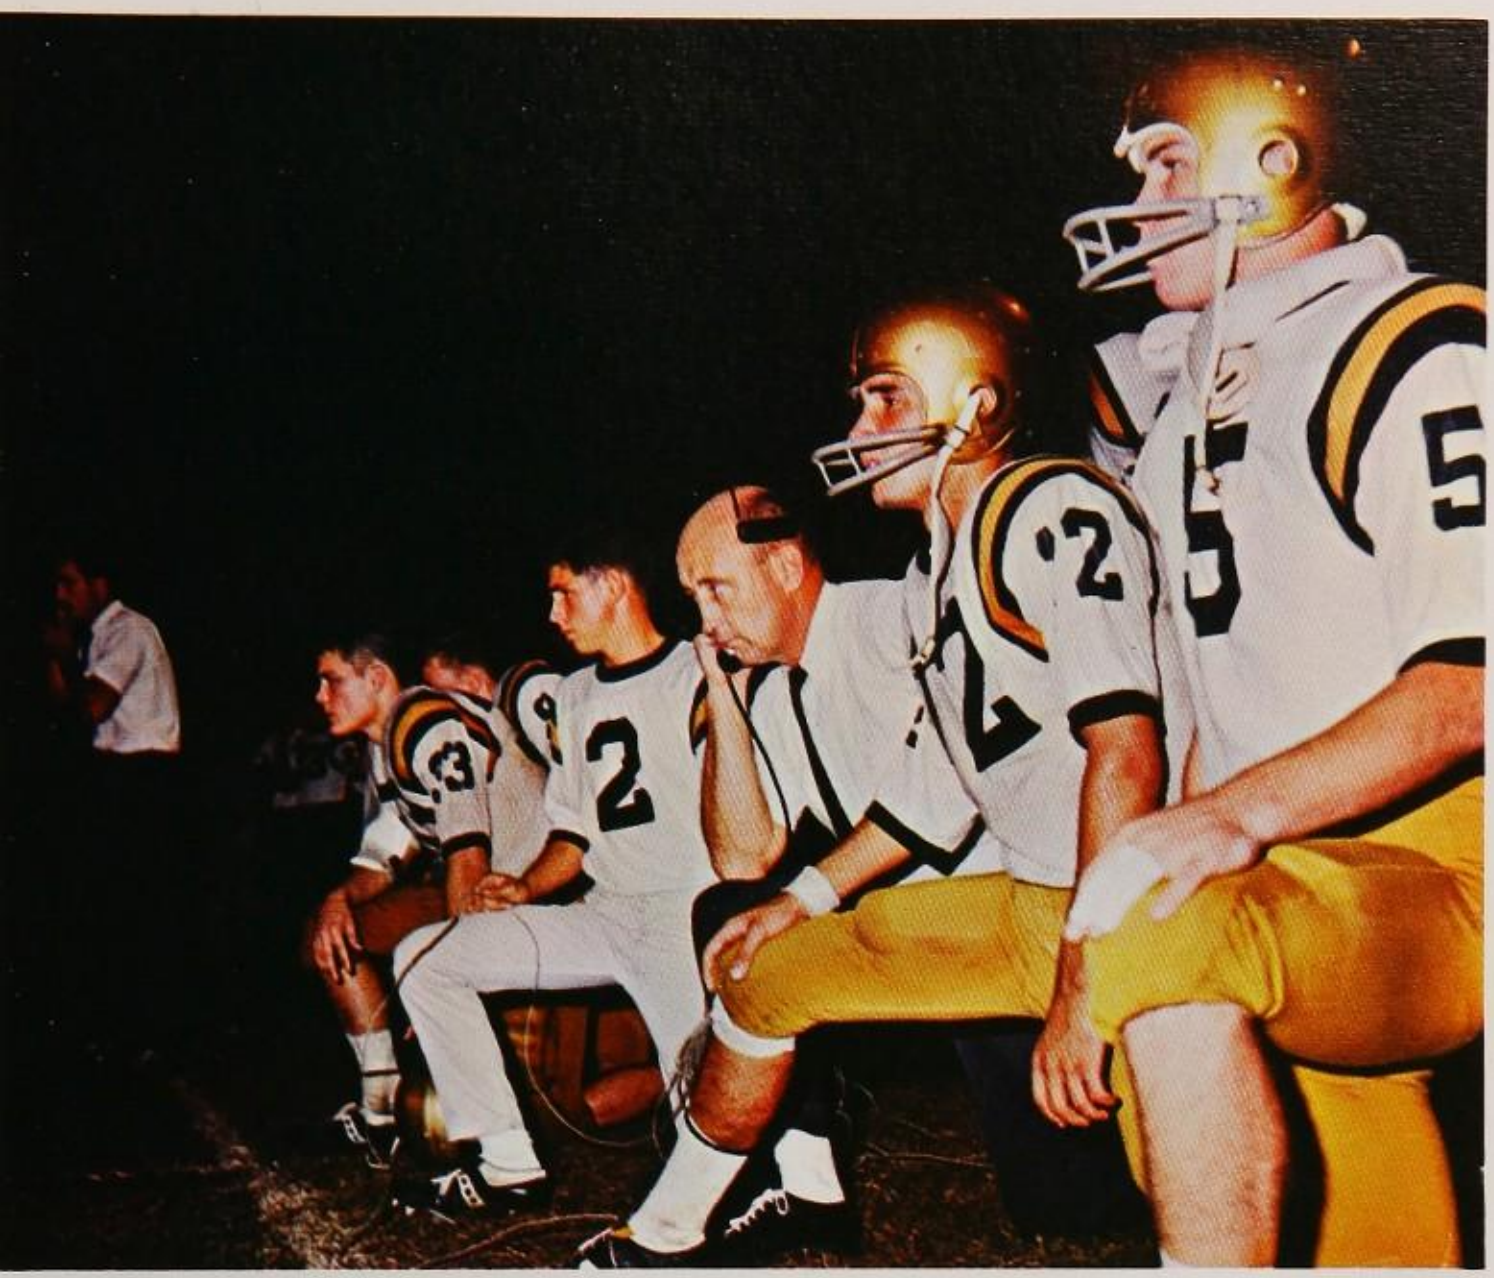


HARMONY

A Youth's World Includes Athletics

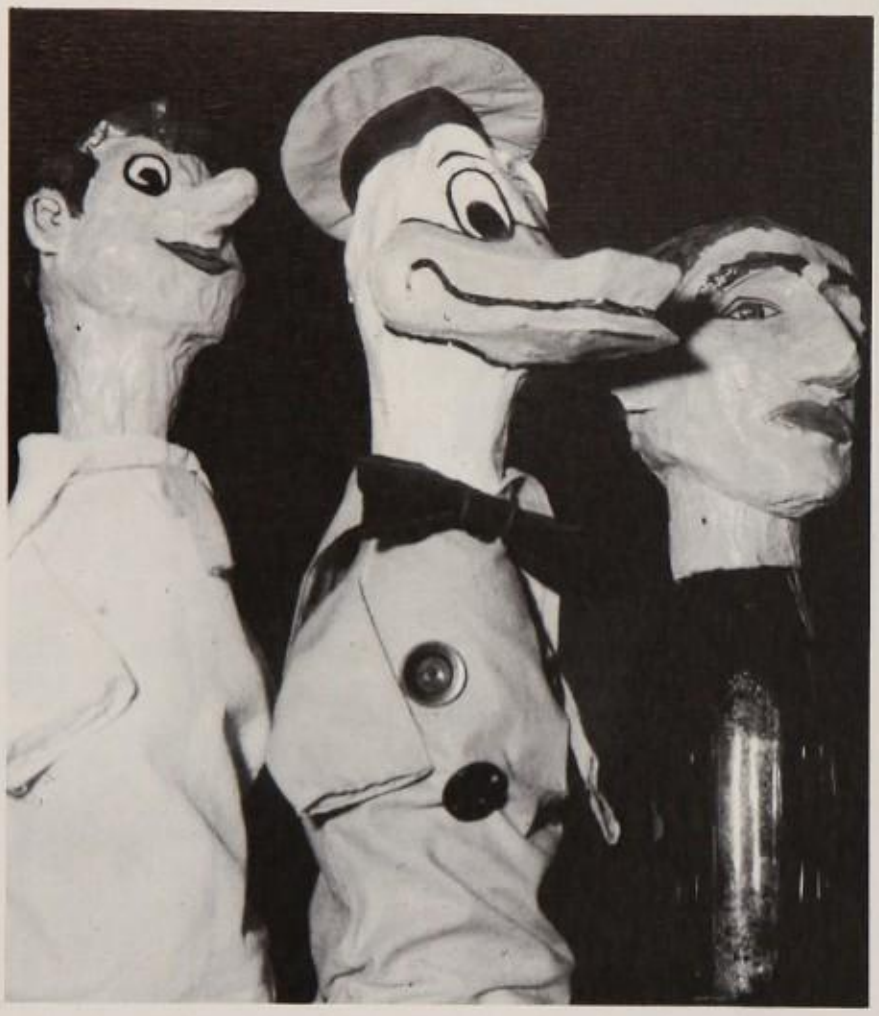
Teamwork and good sportsmanship are two of the fundamentals of a good citizen. In athletics, we have been taught not only the mechanics of sports but more importantly, the character building elements of competition.

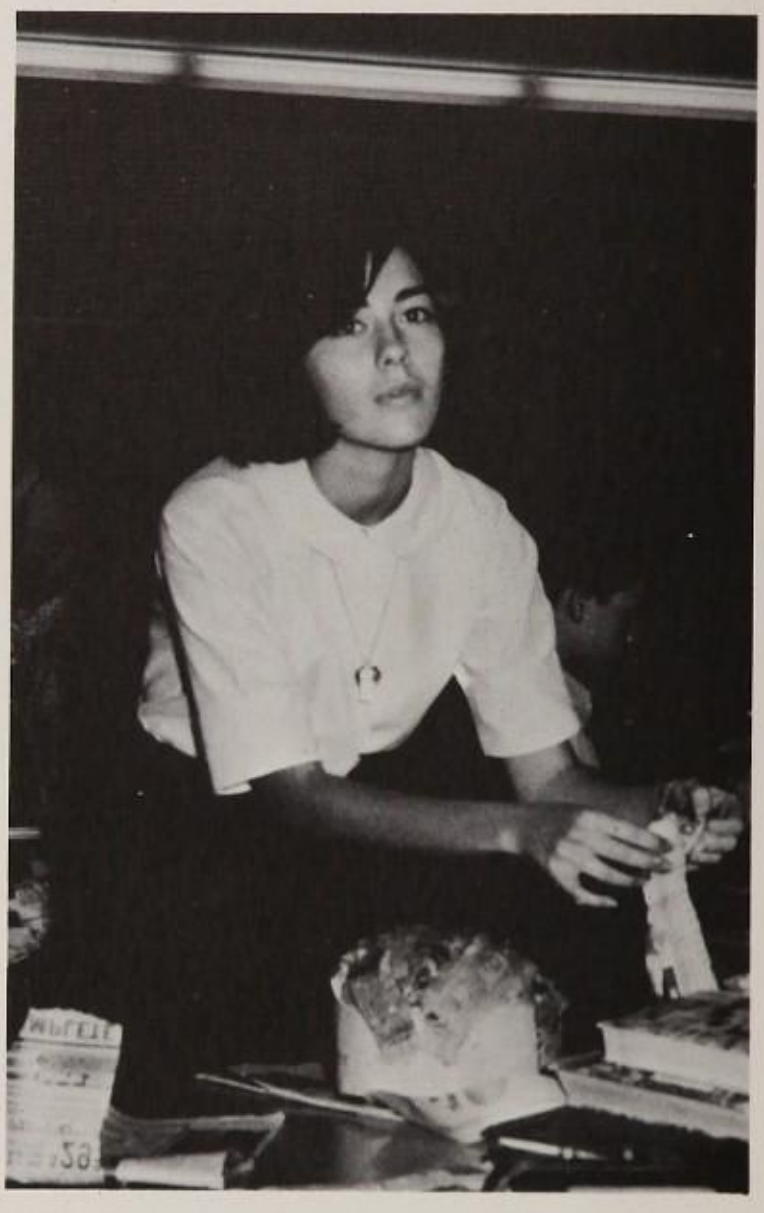




Coral Park Outstanding Senior Athlete Honor Roll

A Youth's World Includes The Arts



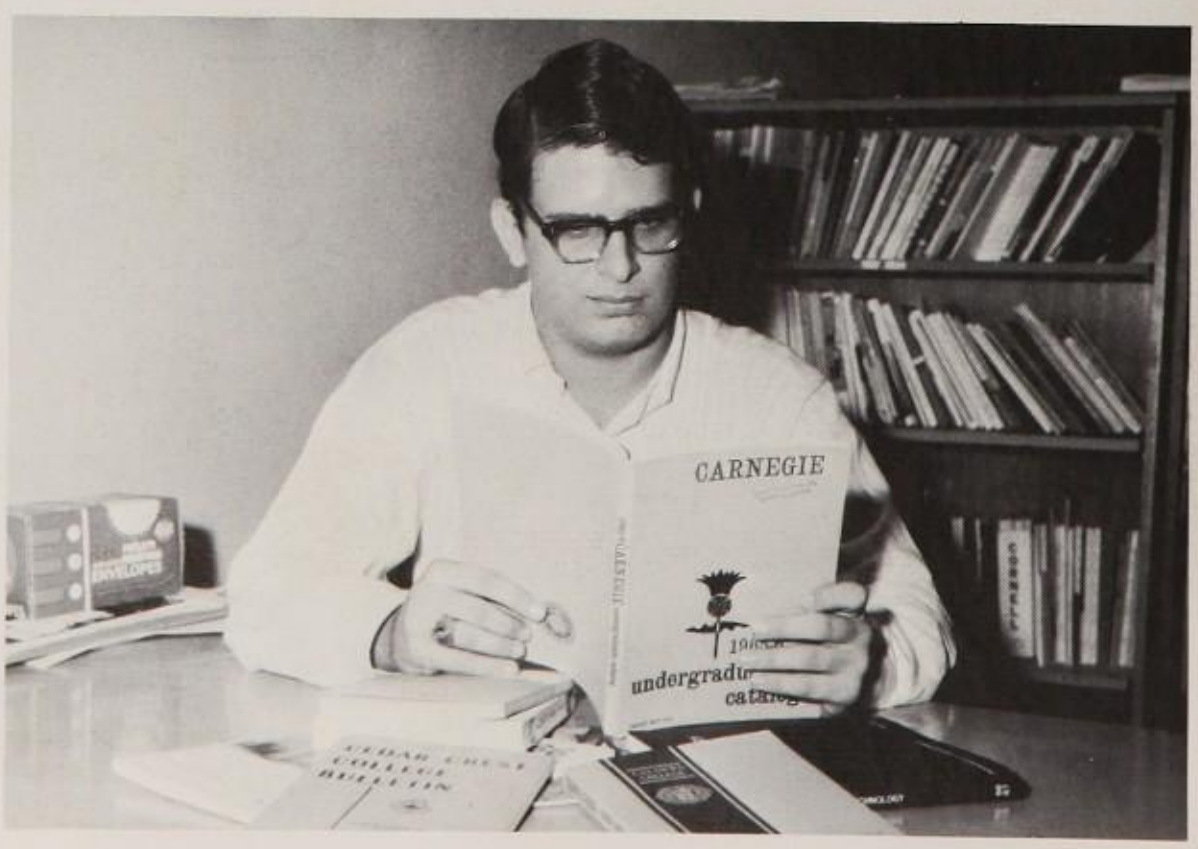


The arts give us the opportunity to express our innermost thoughts and to reveal our talents through creativity. We become more aware of the world around us, whether it's expressed in music, drama, painting or sculpture. From these we realize the importance of our individuality.

A Youth's World Includes School Spirit

School spirit is the freedom of participating and belonging. It aims toward a particular goal, that of making a school as good as possible. Among the first steps toward living in a democratic way is developing a sense of responsibility.

A Youth's World Includes The Future



As we look back upon our years at Coral Park, we realize that we have gained more than friends. We have learned more than just the words from text-books. We have been given a gift to cherish as we strive to fulfill our place in society in the years ahead.

Algernon and John shake hands after a disagreement on the marriage of Algernon to Cecily. Being Cecily's guardian, John objected to the marriage.

Thespians Produce 'Earnest' Effectively

The major production given by Coral Park's advanced drama group was Oscar Wilde's play, "The Importance of Being Earnest." Directed by Mrs. Barbara Jonas, the students thoroughly researched Victorian costumes and politics. Active school performers portrayed their characters effectively. George Drake, Ted Shell, Gail Curtis, and Donna Aronson were some of the principal performers. Others were Lois Fay, Scott Watts, and Pat Bondy.

As the story begins, two pseudo-brothers: one from the city and one from the country, have plans for marriage. They tell their prospective brides that they are named Ernest. The girls find out that they aren't earnest about being Ernest, but marry them anyway. The theme is a satire on the name Ernest and the virtue of being earnest.

Lady Bracknell, portrayed by Pat Bondy, takes notes while Gwendolyn Fairfax, played by Gail Curtis, sips tea. Lois Fay as Cecily Cardew and Ted Shell as Algernon Moncrieff, watch attentively.

Gwendolyn and Cecily are furious and disgusted at the fact that their betrothed Ernests are really John and Algernon. The two men had taken the name of Ernest just to win the love of the girls.

Homecoming Queen

Miss Ricky Weissinger

Coral Park Marks First Homecoming

November 23, 1966, marked Coral Park's first homecoming since it became a high school in 1963. Festivities started with the naming of the Homecoming Queen and her court. Ricky Weissinger was crowned queen of this year's events by Joan Bicki, a representative from the Class of 1966. The court consisted of senior princesses Bernie Revay and Judi Muglia; junior princesses Gayle Eden and Susan Harrison; and sophomore princess Judi Harvest.

Coral Park played its first homecoming football game against North Miami High School at Miami-Dade County Junior College Stadium. Although the game was not a victory for the team, the Homecoming Dance held in the school gym was fun for all who attended. Also a success was the return of the alumni that afternoon.

In their blue, gold and white uniforms, the Coral Park Marching Band and the majorettes performed for the crowd during the halftime show.

Some of the alumni returning for the homecoming game on November 23, 1966, were: Monica Roth, Linda Bernstein, Judi Snetiker, Sharon Clark, Linda Fritsch, and Bobby Wolfe. Judi and Sharon are two returning cheerleaders.

Skill Plus Emotion Entertain Audience

Several girls in the third period modern dance class are working out their individual routines for the spring modern dance show.

Modern or interpretative dance is an art form which is based on the individual's ability to express emotions through movement. Expressing a mood through dance requires a great deal of imagination on the part of the performer and yet the idea must be presented in such a way that the audience will be free to interpret it as they wish.

Each day in modern dance class, the students warm up with exercises designed to increase flexibility, co-ordination and grace. The girls choreograph their individual dances and prepare group dances throughout the year with the skills acquired through Mrs. Carol Dietrick's direction. The dancers sponsor a modern dance show each spring for the Coral Park student body's enjoyment and enlightenment.

Orchestra Strives To Spread Culture

STRING ENSEMBLE

Toby Katzker, David Sanders, Dan Cermeno, Pam Pecha, Mr. Alan Matracht, Terry Sternberg

The orchestra is composed of high caliber students with musical skills for which they have won state-wide recognition. They have an ambitious and musically sincere attitude. Newly inaugurated is an ensemble giving weekend recitals for old age homes and children's hospitals. The orchestra represented the school in an all-state meeting of the Music Education Convention at Tampa, Florida, in January, 1967. Mr. Alan Matracht, the orchestra conductor, selected their music. They also participated in a recently formed all-high school orchestra with Coral Park students as the core. Eventually all twenty-two high schools in Dade County will be participants. The total aim of orchestra is to raise the cultural level in the community. As Mr. Matracht has stated, "Music is the listener's art."

Ram Band Scores Musical Prosperity

Of all of Coral Park's bands, the most familiar is the Concert Marching Band. This group performed during the halftime shows at all football games. They also participated in the pre-game and halftime shows at the Pro-Bowl game.

Accompanying the Marching Band in the list of performing bands is the stage band, better known as the dance band. Their music has been heard at the Coral Park Capers, assemblies, and even at the local junior high schools.

The Intermediate band is the foundation for further study in the field of music. It provides the necessary experience and skill for the advanced bands. It also teaches the fundamentals of music. All bands are under the direction of Mr. Troy Mills and Mr. Arthemon Johnson.

Chorus Department Entertains Students

The choral department of Coral Park is composed of six singing groups under the direction of Miss Joan Owen and Mr. Arthemon Johnson. The most outstanding of these choirs is the Concert Chorale, often called the Mixed Chorus. It is comprised of fifty-two members who perform for various school activities as well as community functions.

Another major chorus is the Choralaires, made up of those girls who have exceptional choral abilities. They performed along with the Concert Chorale for the traditional Christmas program put on for the entire student body.

Annual events for all chorus members are the Music Festivals held throughout the state and county. Coral Park's students also look forward to the Spring Program presented by the music department.

Majorettes Augment Halftime Festivities

The majorettes, under the direction of Miss Wynn Brown, have participated in many contests and school programs. In addition to performing at the pep rallies, they have become an intricate part of the football halftime festivities. Among the pageants they have participated in were the Optimist Parade and the halftime show at the Pro-Bowl Game. Their rendition of "Snoopy vs. the Red Baron," was one of the most popular scenes in Capers.

The girls participated in and won many contests and have even given private twirling lessons. They must maintain a 2.3 scholastic average and a 3.0 average in conduct. Girls from neighboring junior high schools and present Coral Park students are eligible for tryouts with the senior corps members as judges.

Cheerleaders Boost Ram School Spirit

Every spring many girls try out for varsity cheerleading. Only those who are proficient in required skills and maintain a scholastic average of 2.2 and a 3.0 average in conduct succeed. These girls cheer at basketball and football games and take turns attending the wrestling matches and gymnastics meets. Their activities consist of leading cheers at pep rallies and instilling school spirit in the student body.

In May, a clinic was held to assist those girls trying out for the cheerleading squad. The individual varsity cheerleaders helped the girls prepare for the tryouts by teaching them the skills and fundamental cheers. Captain Sally Slane and co-captain Iris Denton were in charge of the clinic, and their sponsors, Miss Saralee Smith and Miss Susan Smith, were responsible for coordinating the activities.

"Two bits, four bits, six bits, a dollar," is the cry, as Coral Park's varsity cheerleaders conduct an enthusiastic student body in a cheer.

Coral Park Capers
A Modern Review

Erasistible 1967, A Rambunctious Review, was one of the highlights of Coral Park's activities in March. The cast, co-directed by Miss Lindy Melion, Miss Dina Landis and Miss Kristin Pettit, played to a full house March 16, 17, and 18. Publicity was handled by Miss Camille Park.

The Review, drawing talent from all classes, presented forms of music and dance indicative of American culture, while skits and The Voice of History recalled significant events from the Twentieth Century.

Six scenes were handled according to decades, giving rise to the colorful Ziegfield Follies, the raucous Roaring Twenties Speakeasy, the big band sounds of the 1930's and 1940's, the emerging beat of the 1950's, and the dizzying scope of this generation. Highlighting the events, the fourth annual queen was crowned.

Peter, Paul and Mary give their interpretation of "The Cruel War." Marsha Schuler, Mike Womack, and Sue Arace sing their mightiest for Capers.

Modern disc jockeys were the brunt of this skit with Clara Zion as a teen reporter.

Alley cats never looked as good as Hope Wasserman, Janice Martin, Sue Weaver, Dottie Schneider, Liz Maurer, Connie Levine, and Janet Benvenuti do in this modern dance scene from Capers.

Service Turns Key For Silver Knights

Service is the key word for Silver Knight nominees. The Silver Knight nomination in each category is awarded to the student who best exemplifies the unselfish use of his abilities to help others.

General qualifications are achievement, leadership, and character. Achievement has been measured through accomplishments, honors, and recognition especially in the related field as well as in other fields. Direction of purpose, realization of goals, and persistence are important in the selections. Leadership is hallmarked by initiative in constructive programs, poise in facing difficult problems, courage in meeting responsibilities, and popularity with others. Character is revealed by a persons' habits and attitudes, his appreciation of society's moral and spiritual values, and his own sense of good judgment as reflected in his relationship with others.

All these factors are considered, but ultimately the choice rests on the individual's use of these factors to be of service to others.

Silver Knight nominees stand at the top of their class and best represent its ideas and its goals. Personal talent and initiative, as well as Coral Park's fine teaching staff and facilities, have combined to develop these young people into the strong pillars upon which our society depends.

Dr. Harriet Prance congratulates Steve Byers on his Silver Knight nomination. Nominees Sheldon Knoigsberg, Mary Fiksel, and Tina Woolf stand by.

Seniors Recognize Class Superlatives

After attending Coral Park for three years, the graduating seniors prepare to leave the school with many memories of their experiences, both good and bad. Perhaps the most important of these memories are those which involve their relations with other classmates. Each school has its shining personalities and otherwise well-rounded students. The twenty-four young ladies and gentlemen appearing on these pages are those students which have made a lasting impression on their fellow classmates during their years at Coral Park. There were many areas in which a student could excel, from intellectual ability to school spirit. The seniors shown in the twelve categories were voted the most representative of the Class of '67 by the sternest of judges, their peers.

Administrators Set The 1966-1967 Pace

Headed by Mr. James L. Newmeyer, Coral Park's administration guides the varied facets of school life towards the completion of a successful and long-remembered year.

Mr. Newmeyer, principal of Coral Park, has served this position since the school's beginning four years ago. He is active in nearly every phase of school activity.

New this year, Mr. Harold Lannom and Mr. Joseph McNulty serve as assistant principals for administration. Basically, their job is seeing that attendance is kept high and student regulations obeyed.

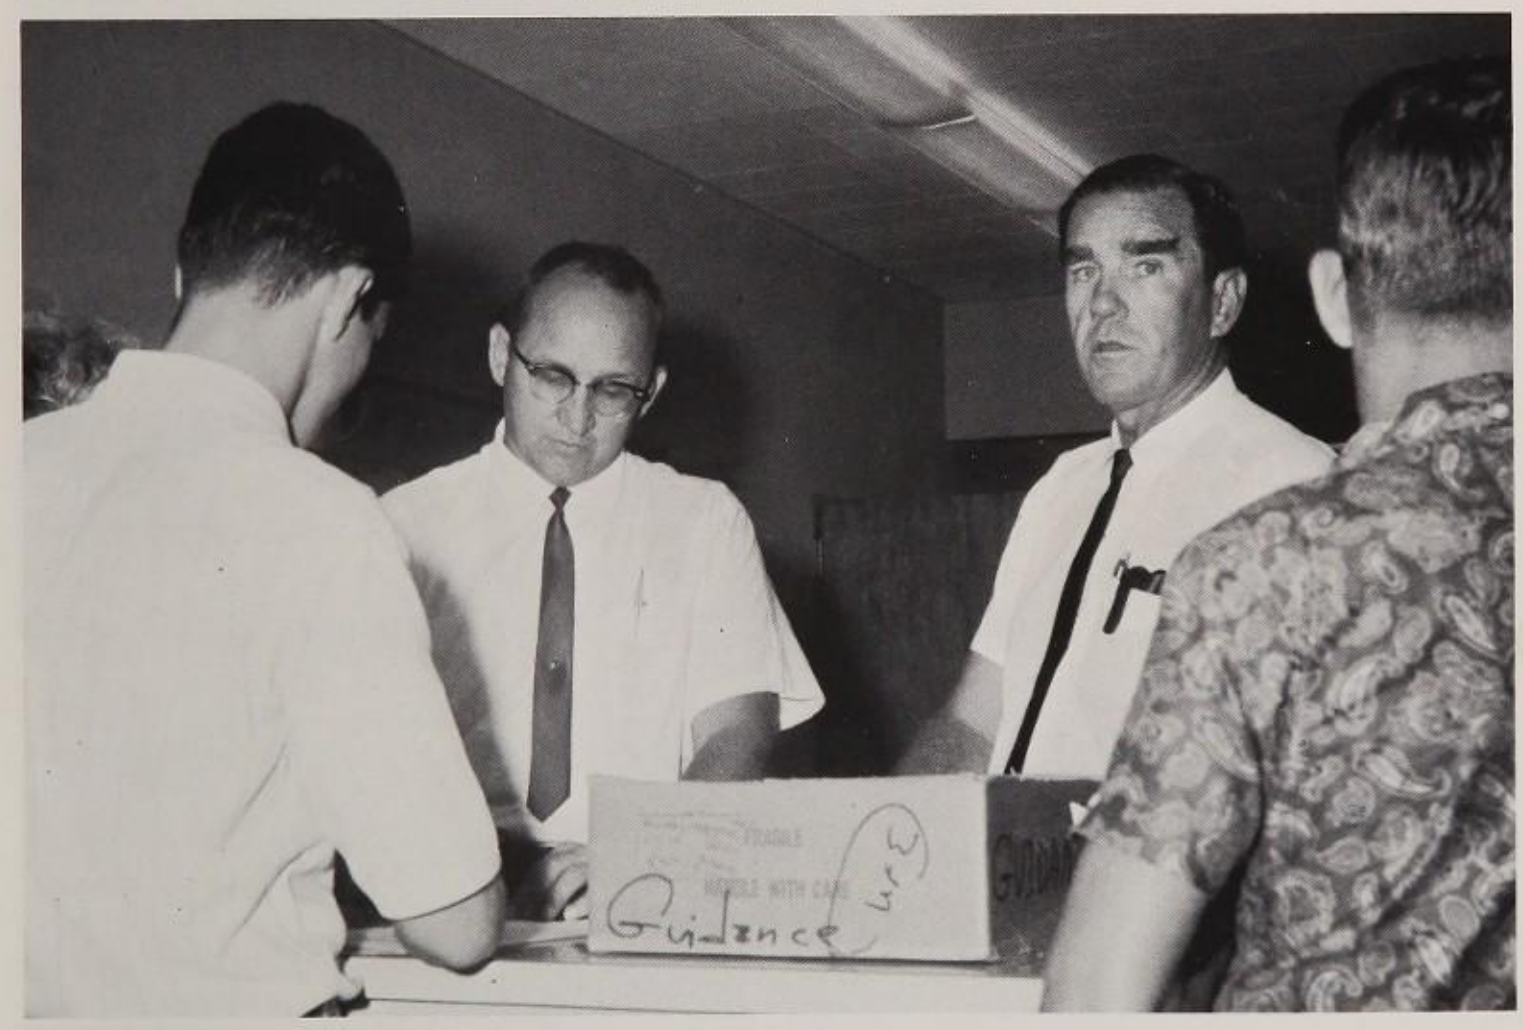
Mrs. Corinne Mitchell, in her first year here, is assistant principal for curriculum. Dr. Harriette Prance is assistant principal for guidance. Together they work to bring together the efforts of both students and faculty.

At a pre-game pep rally, Mr. James L. Newmeyer leads students in his traditional "Fight!" cheer. His participation at pep rallies adds to the enthusiasm.

A welcome and familiar sight at most assemblies, Mr. James L. Newmeyer is always willing to guide and advise the student body.

Near the end of a hard-fought football game, Mr. Bill Mihm, Mr. James Newmeyer, and Mr. Joseph McNulty, three ardent supporters, contemplate a defeat.

Curriculum and future opportunities are the concerns of Mrs. Corinne Mitchell, assistant principal for curriculum, and Dr. Harriette Prance, assistant principal for guidance.



Ready to administer punishment or be a friend, Mr. Harold Lannom and Mr. Joseph McNulty can usually be found in the main office. This is their first year here as Assistant Principals for Administration.

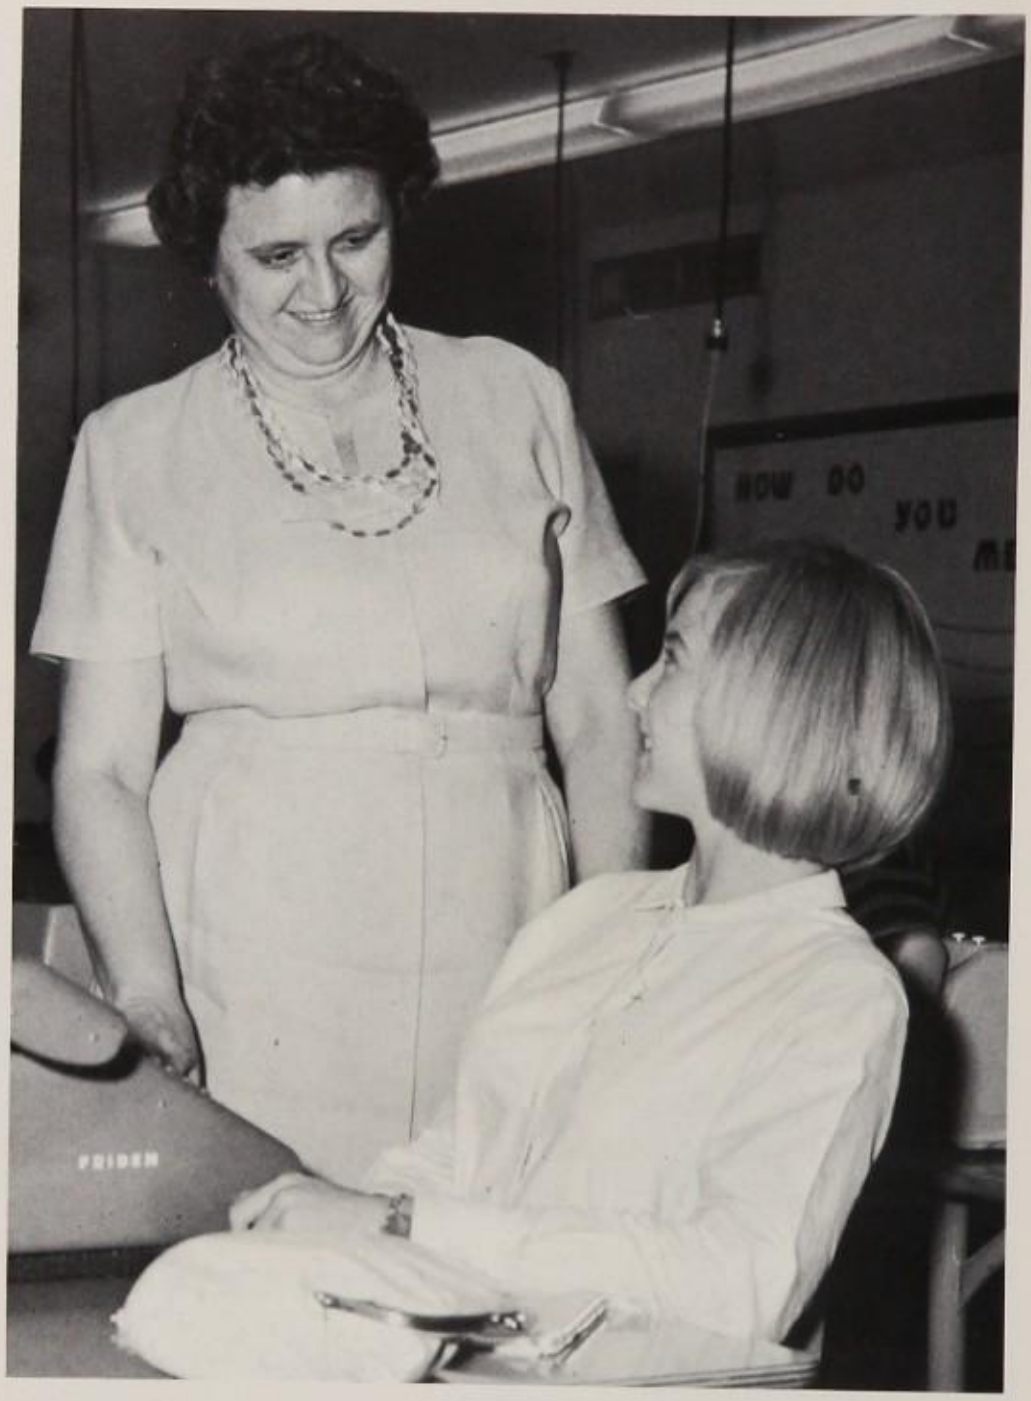
Business Know-How Insures Successes

An increasing number of high school students use business education as a major employment qualification immediately after high school. For this reason the business department tries to incorporate every possible aspect of future business life into its present program.

Miss Essie Shepler, department chairman, supervises the efficient working of students, teachers, and machines. Under her direction are taught many skills, among them both beginning and second year typing and shorthand, bookkeeping, general business, business math, business English, business law, and clerical office practice.

Associated with the business department are C.D.E. (Cooperative Distributive Education) and C.B.E. (Cooperative Business Education) programs. Both afford senior business students the opportunity to use their skills in contemporary jobs while attending school.



At the close of the period, Department Chairman Miss Essie Shepler and student Beverly Rhode talk over the day's work in the office practice classroom.

College Prep Adds To Year's Routine

At Coral Park, English is headed by Mr. Clifford Singleton, who directs the four English levels. Students with a need for greater fundamental knowledge in English take basic English. Regular English is offered to the majority of students, and honors English can be taken by those with exceptional talents. Seniors with more than average interest and ability may take college prep English, a new course this year that is more specifically attuned to the college-bound student.

Along with these courses are the enrichment courses, which include drama, vocabulary, world literature, debate, journalism, creative writing, and speech. All of these not only give the individual students an opportunity to express themselves in school, but offer an abundance of useful knowledge that will be helpful in the future.

Qualifications for honors English students are high. Mr. Louis Heilberg consults with counselor Mrs. Peggy Jefferson on the merits of adding a student to his class.

Reason and Math Go Hand in Hand

Throughout the ages mathematics has fascinated man; as Bertrand Russell said, "Mathematics possesses not only truth, but supreme beauty—".

Headed by Mrs. Phyllis Porter, our math department tries to impréss upon its students not only the beauty and truth of math, but its use in everyday life, to everyone.

There are several courses offered. They range from the fundamental general math to the more advanced algebras, geometry, trigonometry, and calculus. Students wishing to specialize in a particular area of mathematics can do so.

In any of the sciences a knowledge of math is essential, and the always-widening technology of today make mathematics one of the most important basic fields of learning.

A popular course is geometry. Here it is being taught to interested students by Mr. Douglas Crawford. The importance of knowing the theorems is often stressed!

Science Stimulates Inquiring Students

Aware that science is the most emphasized of all fields today, the science department, under Mr. Robert Wesley's direction, has proven a stimulus to students pursuing science as a career.

Offered at Coral Park are the general and honors biology courses and regular and honors chemistry and physics. The Biological Sciences Curriculum Studies (BSCS) method is cultivated. Students are given the opportunity to discover for themselves the fundamental processes governing life through their use of scientific equipment. In tenth grade biology classes a new experience is the dissection of small specimens. On a higher level, special classes of science and lab research are offered similar opportunities. The students enrolled in these courses are able to work with outside institutions.

New Language Lab Simplifies Teaching

Long promised, the language lab this year has become a reality. Mr. James Hyland, head of the department, oversees the teaching of Latin, French, German, and Spanish. With the help of the new lab the teaching of foreign language should be simplified. It allows the individuals to make and correct their own tapes, communicate with their teachers in order to ask questions, and to rectify previous mistakes.

The Audio-Lingual Method, stressing both fluency in speaking and comprehension in listening, is used in teaching all languages except Latin.

It is becoming more and more essential for peoples of different languages to communicate with one another. The knowledge of a second language proves a cultural as well as a practical asset.

Department Chairman Mr. James Hyland, Mr. Walter Kenny and Mr. William Calkins, adjust the language lab, added this year to teach more effectively.

Perceptions Widen With Team Teaching

A major change in the social studies department, which is headed by Miss Ethelyn Massey, is the procedure of team teaching. The course combines eleventh grade English and U. S. history. The purpose of the course is to better teach the principles of American culture.

The social studies program encompasses courses in history, geography, psychology, sociology, and United States government and economics. Courses in American history and United States government are required of juniors and seniors, respectively.

In all these fields, emphasis is placed on interrelationships. Current events are evaluated carefully with an eye to enabling the student to recognize history in the making.

The responsibilities of being an American is the topic of Mr. Wayland Wisbey's lecture. A senior unit presents the Communist theory, and the best defense against its spread.

Creativity Enhances Appreciation Of Life

Perhaps the most active of all departments is the one headed by Mr. George Bernhardy, the creative arts department. Under his direction are the home economics, wood and metal shop, graphics, music theory, band, orchestra, and art courses. Mr. Ralph Woodmansee and Mr. David Smith, art teachers, see that there are exhibits placed outside the art room for the public to enjoy. Mr. Alan Matracht, Mr. Arthemon Johnson, Mr. Troy Mills, and Miss Joan Owen are in charge of various musical programs, rallies, and assemblies.

All the creative arts teachers understand that their subjects will prove a source of lasting appreciation and enjoyment.

The creative arts department has proved to be an integral part of student life at Coral Park.

Phys. Ed. Classes Aim At Excellence

There are two main goals that the physical education department, under Mr. Lloyd Parker's direction, wishes to fulfill. One is to leave students more physically fit by the end of the year. The other is to aid the students in developing sportsmanship, character, leadership qualities, self-control, and confidence.

Physical education classes are offered a variety of sports. Grades are based on ability, attitude, and scores on written tests. For the first time, there is a special class for seniors who wish to continue with physical education.

A youth's interest in sports in later life and his ability to participate in them can have a sound beginning with his knowledge of the fundamental rules learned in physical education.

Grunts and puffs greet visitors to the weight room. It offers everyone an opportunity to improve physically. Physical education classes use it throughout the year.

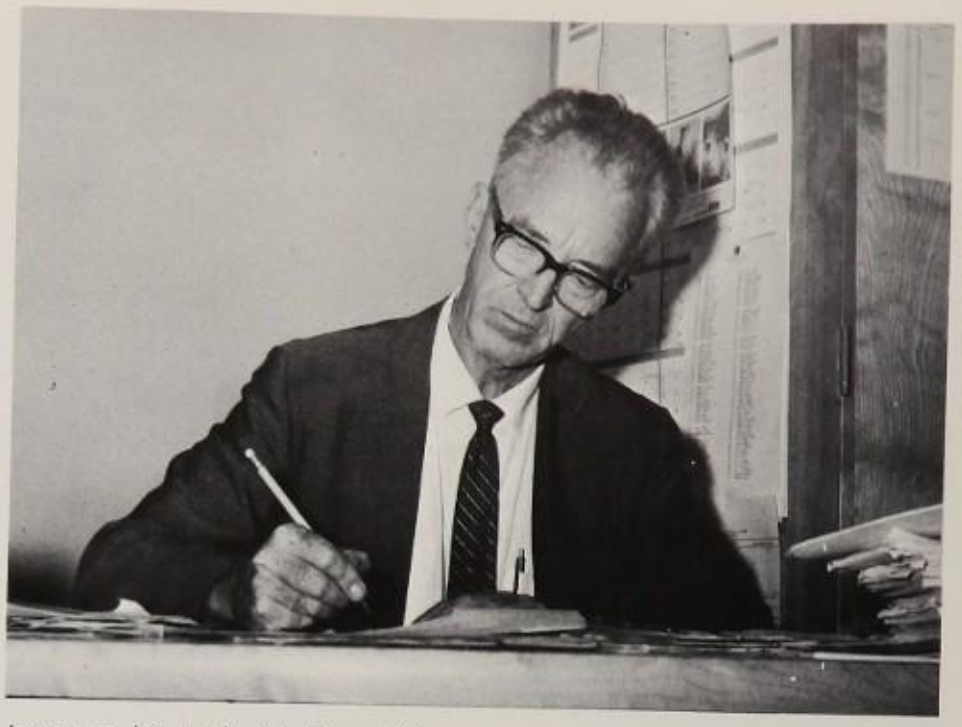
Counseling, Library Guide Our Interest

Without guidance, students may flounder in areas for which they have little aptitude, or waste time in courses that they will never use in later life. Coral Park's staff not only advises students on careers, but helps them with problems at home when needed.

Mrs. Susan Carrow, Coral Park's nurse, is another helpful "counselor". She benefits the students by being on hand in case of sickness or injury during school.

An addition to our library this year is the charging machine, a device that automatically records the check-out and check-in date of borrowed books, and the student number for easier identification. Many new books and references have also been added this year, and are proving invaluable assets.



Intent on his work, Mr. Rupert Doan concentrates on one of many schedule problems dealt with every day. He often supervises class testing.

Staffs Keep Order Maintain Efficiency

Official correspondence and various classroom duties are managed by the office staff and aides. They efficiently take care of the piles of paperwork and hundreds of details involved in running a large high school.

The custodial staff, a necessary and often inconspicuous facet of the school's operation, performs services that are sometimes taken for granted by the student body. Long after the school day, they work to clean and prepare the building for the next day.

To provide good, well-balanced meals is the job of the cafeteria staff, under the direction of Mrs. Geraldine Hannan. They make it possible for the student body to eat a wholesome meal at school, to eliminate going out for lunch.

Ram Effort Marred By Tough Setbacks

Coral Park's 1966-67 varsity football Rams began the season with hard work and determination. With fifteen returning lettermen the team looked forward to another great year, but a series of tough setbacks and personal injuries dictated otherwise. After an opening loss to Jackson, the Rams bounced back to overtake South Dade 14-7. Then, in succeeding games the Rams were stubbornly forced into second place by often narrow margins. Commenting on the 2-8 season record, Head Coach Frank Downing said, "It was a trying season for the players and coaches. It put everyone to a test." Despite the losses and disappointments the players went out each game to win and believing they could win, spurred by the phrase, "A winner never quits, and a quitter never wins."

Co-captains Dick Cathcart and Dave Sawyer ponder the toss of the coin before shaking hands with Gables opponents moments before the opening kick-off.

Ram quarterback Dick Cathcart fires a pass to end Mike Fulford to gain valuable yardage against the Gables defense. The Rams displayed an exceptional passer in Cathcart, who was 12 for 31 for the evening. Despite the 164 yards gained in passing the Cavaliers went on to a 27 to 14 win.

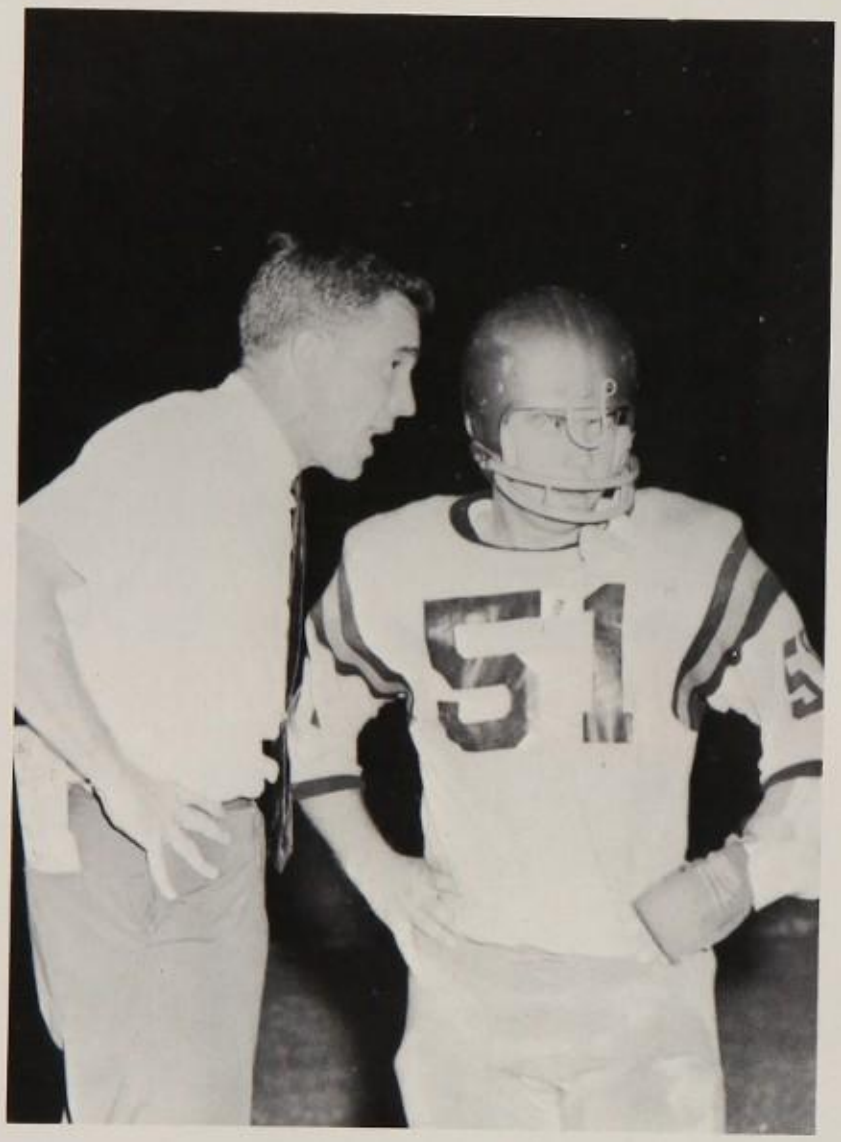
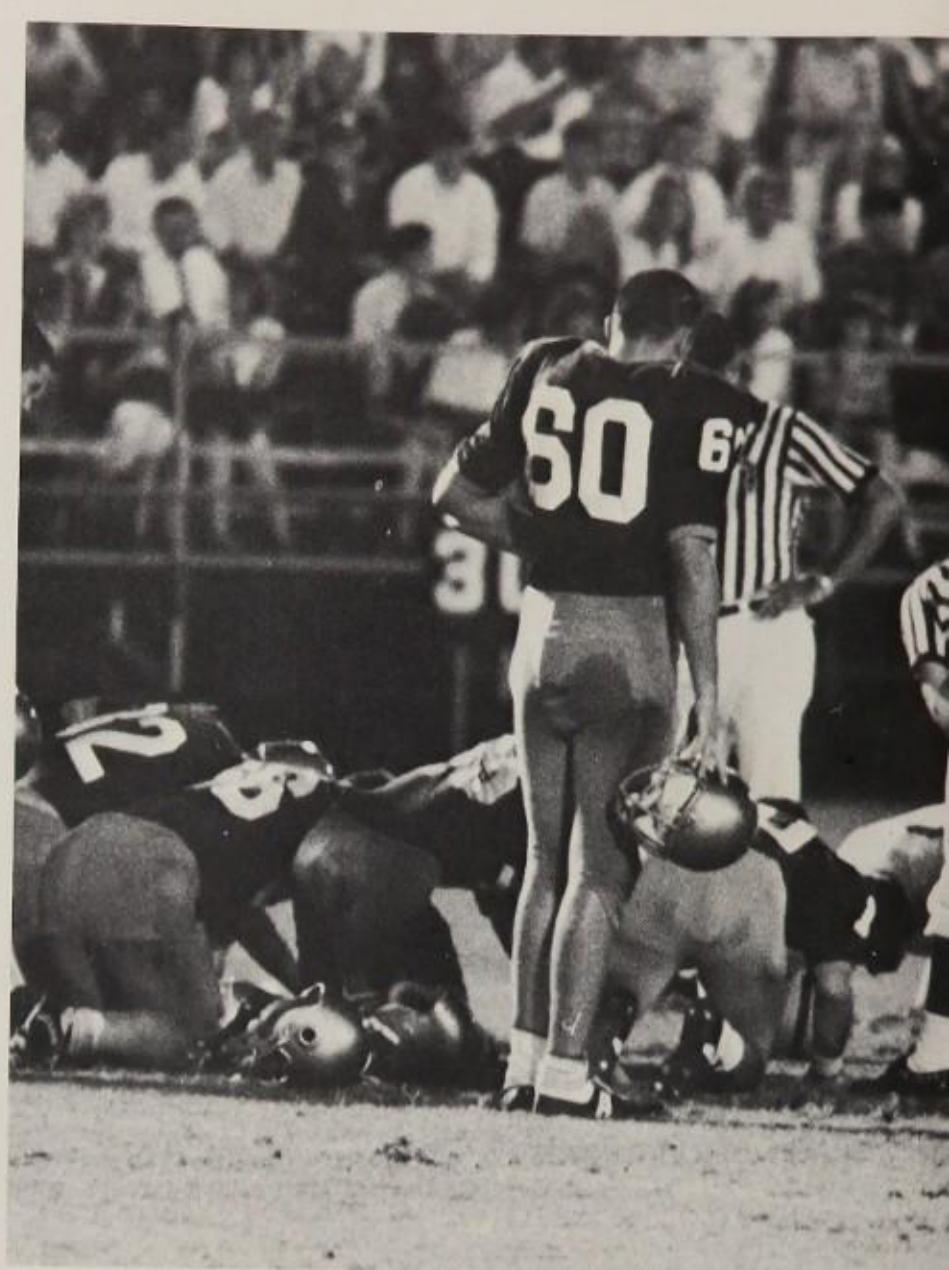
Senior Dave Baker views a fourth and one situation with Head Coach Frank Downing, who is radioed information from the Ram coaches in the press box.



Defensive senior guard Bill Chalker discusses a tight situation with Assistant Coach Art Conner during a Ram time out.



Football is a rugged, action game, but even in this sport there is time for silent meditation with players heads bowed in apparent reverence. In Senior back Bob Brown changes stride to avoid the on-rushing Southwest tackles bearing down on him.

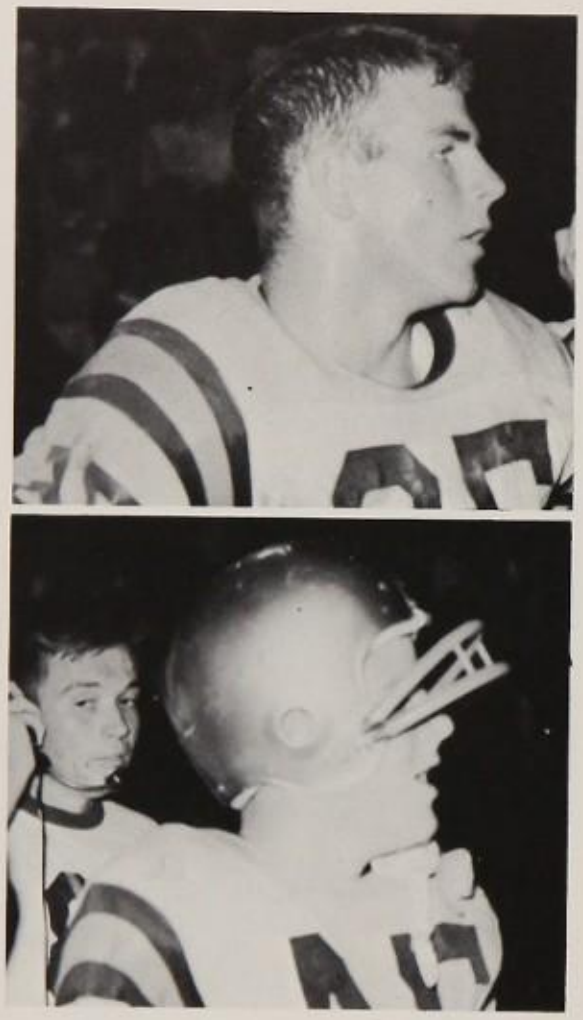
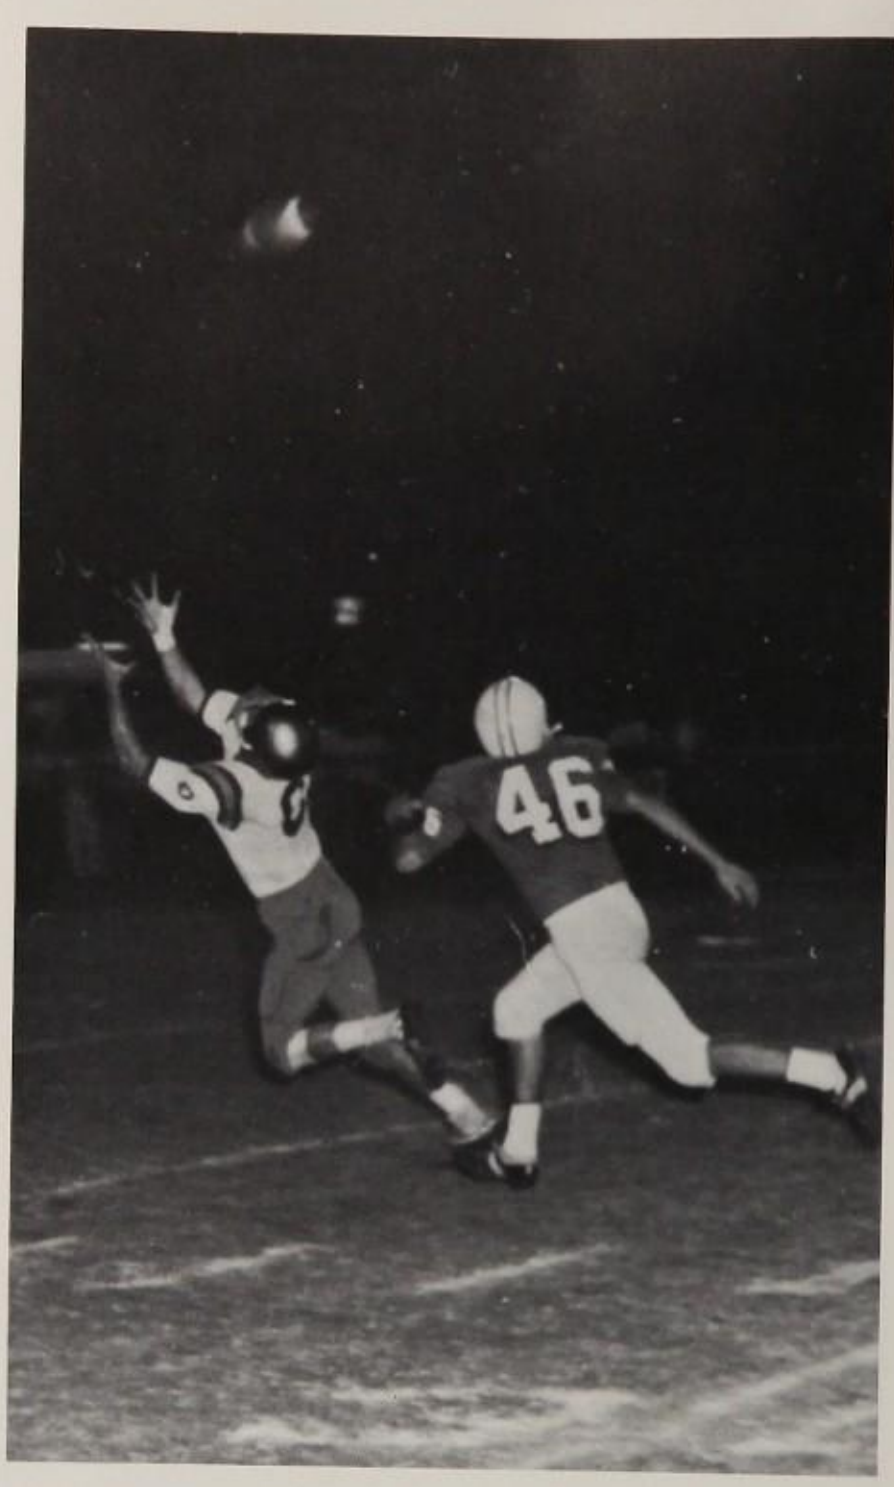
Tackle Rick Childree congratulates halfback Bob Brown for an 85 yard punt return touchdown to give Coral Park a 20-14 lead over Southwest in the third quarter of the game. Brown collected 142 yards in rushing during the game.



Seniors Rick Childree (top) and Ron Walters ponder the changing tempo of the game.



Junior Larry Elliot displays the Ram spirit as he reaches high for a pass that went incomplete as a Southwest defender follows.

Junior back George Dermigny leads interference against the Eagles as senior halfback George Cheek follows in a long run down the field to grind out the yardage in the Southwest game. Cheek was an outstanding running back for Coral Park throughout the season.

As the Rams charge into the Southwest line the Eagles' Quarterback Ed Floyd runs back to throw a pass that went incomplete. Though leading throughout most of the game, the Rams were unable to keep Southwest from its third consecutive victory over Coral Park.

The players slowly unfold and mill around the referee waiting for the signal. It finally comes with a forward motion of the hand, indicating a Ram first down.

The mounting tension of the Springs game is apparent to Ram tackles Jim White and Rick Childree (76), as defensive Coach Art Conner reviews the situation with part of the Ram defensive unit while the offense tries to move the ball down the field.

The two outstretched arms of the referee indicate what all the effort is for: the Rams have crossed the goal line again for another touchdown.

Coral Park defensive backs James Veber and Russell Bringger pounce on a Curley runner as the Rams ripped the Knights 34-9 for their second win of the season.

When the whistle blows after a play and the ball is dead this is what it looks like as Dave Sawyer (22) and grounded Richard Dempsey (62) look over the line of scrimmage from slightly different viewpoints, while the referees move in to determine exactly where the ball is.

Guards Ken Dulaney and Don Martin lead the way as Junior quarterback Steve Vallone picks up extra yardage.

Head Coach Frank Downing relays radioed information to the players through sideline diagrams.

Baby Rams Efforts Trounce Opponents

Throughout their football season Coral Park's Baby Rams were either outstanding or losing. There was little space in between. Five of the Junior Gridder's opponents could not get a point on the score board in losing to the Baby Rams. In contrast the J.V. was shut out by Coral Gables and Killian and could only muster up one score against arch-rival Southwest. Offensively, the junior varsity scored an average of 18 points per game, while defensively the Baby Rams gave up an average of five points per game. In retrospect after a 5-3 season record, Head Junior Varsity football coach Frank Toscano commented, "I expect this group of boys to contribute much to the Varsity next year."

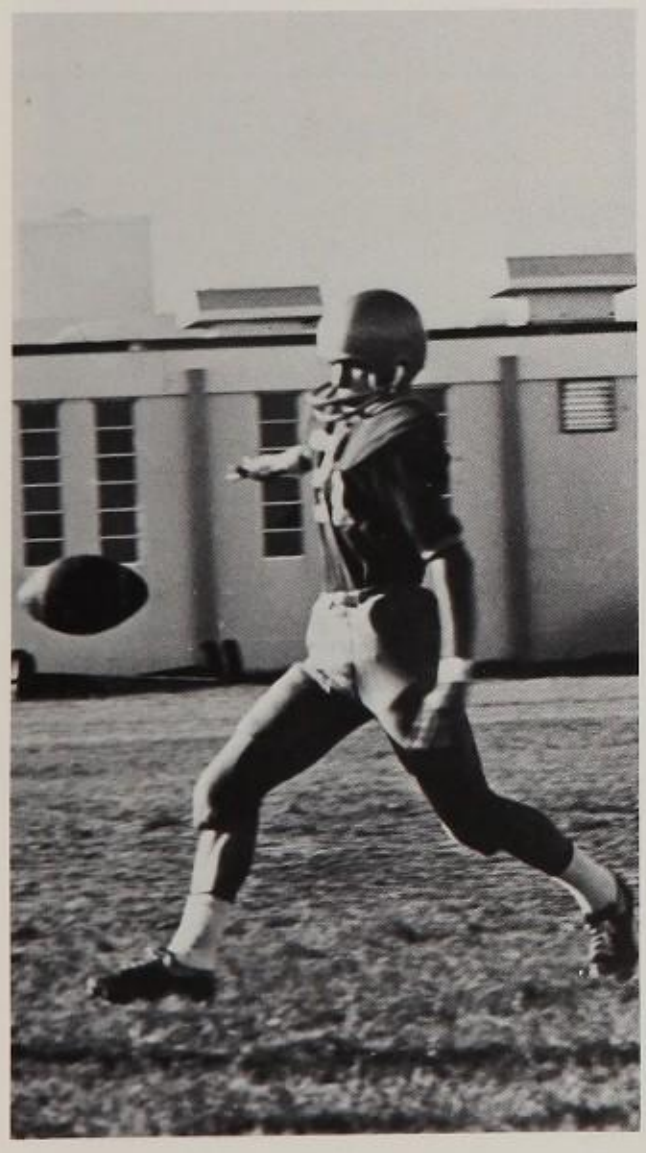
J.V. Football Coach Frank Toscano talks with Bruce Cease, Dan Derringer, Bill Hayes, and Dan McAvoy as Richard Hidalgo listens during a lull in a practice session on the school field. The Junior Varsity used varied game plans against its opponents.



Punting is one of the abilities stressed in developing J.V. gridders into varsity competitors.

Team leader and first string quarterback Tom Rosa rolls out to his left in an attempt to find an open receiver downfield as he is being chased by the Key West defenders.

Despite Few Wins Rams Retain Spirit

Coral Park's basketball team was unable to accomplish the goal it set out to do—have a winning season. However, the boys were able to come close to most of their opponents. They lost most of their games by only a few points.

In his fourth year at Coral Park, Manuel Garcia led the Rams for scoring. Foul-shot artist Frank McMahon, and teammates Bert Gindy, Eddie Falcon, and Gordon Hadley all contributed time and energy toward the improvement of the team.

Coach Gene Stage had his problems, but many of the returning juniors and sophomores should be able to build a winning team in one year. The junior varsity stars, such as Leo Liman, Paul Bronis and Joe Pla, are destined to be varsity players next year.

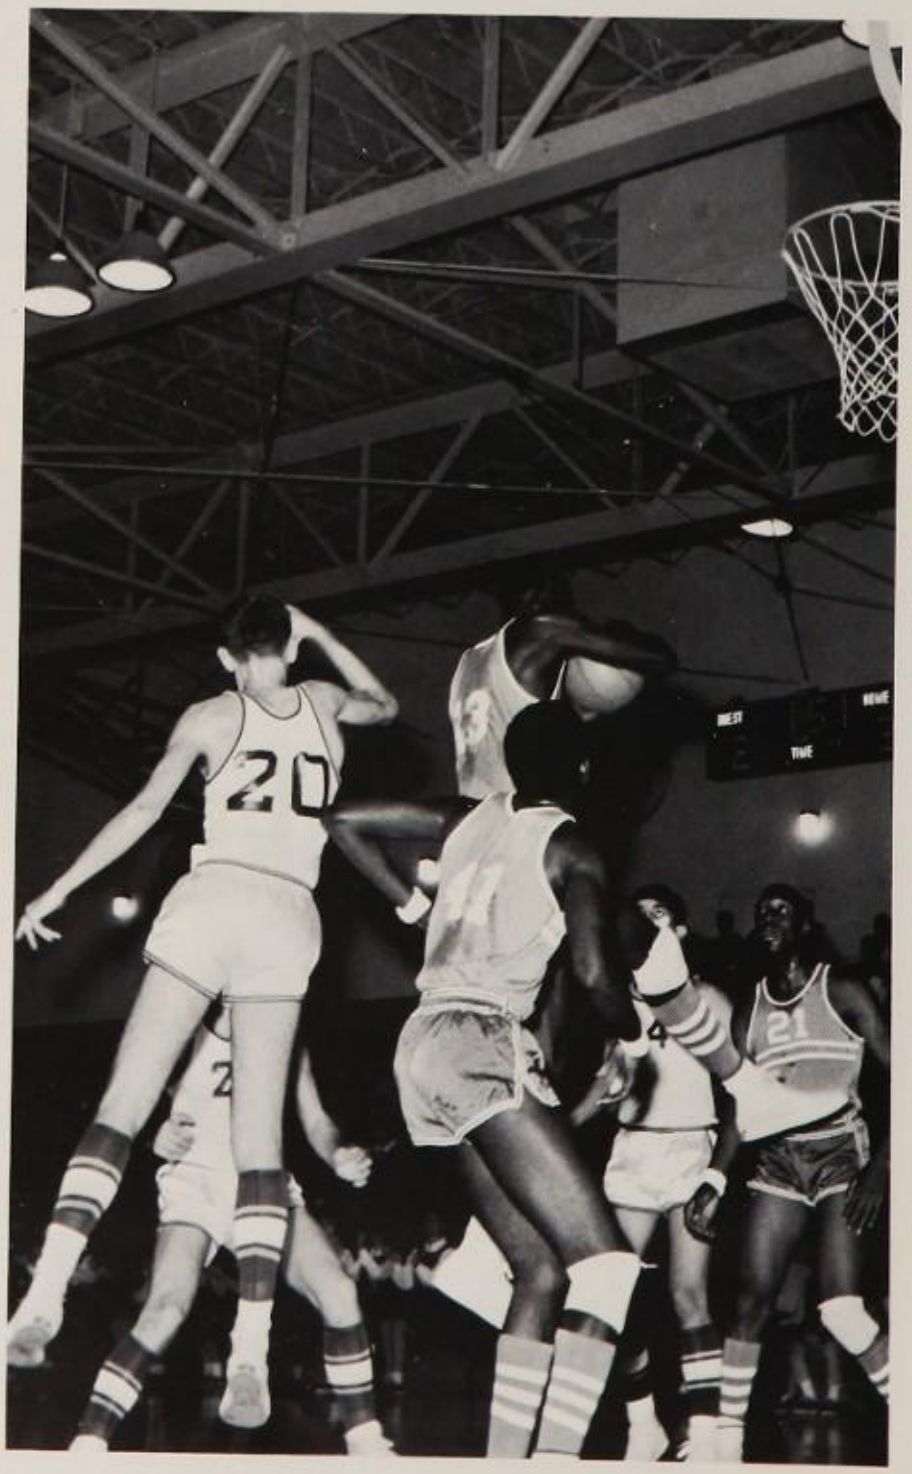
With a high leap, senior Manuel Garcia evades the Jackson defender while attempting a field goal shot from the outer boundaries of the court. Teammate Gordon Hadley guards the other players while preparing for a rebound.

Junior forward Rafael Viamontes sinks a basket as senior teammates Frank McMahon and Bert Gindy help in the defense against the Jackson players.



Senior Manuel Garcia and junior Rafael Viamontes reach for a rebound but their Jackson opponent recovers it and scores two points.

Forward Bert Gindy quickly gets around his opponent and sinks a shot, adding two more points to the Coral Park score in the Miami Springs game.

Senior Manuel Garcia, who plays both guard and forward, drives hard to set-up a shot to another Coral Park cageman. This game against Miami Jackson High was held in the Coral Park gymnasium.

Using all of his 138 pounds to his utmost advantage, sophomore Morris Fast brings his opponent to the mat for a takedown early in the first period, scoring two points.

Wrestling Rams Are Fla. State Champs

With the loss of most of last year's team, which finished second in statewide competition, Coral Park's head wrestling coach Dwight Witty and assistant coach John Hollon put forth effort at not only building a team of the present, but also a team for the future. Their hopes were realized in February with the capture of the 1967 Gold Coast Conference championship wrestling title. Team captain Joey Parker and Neil Paskewitz led the team with first place wins in the meet, held in the school's gym.

Then, in March, the wrestling Rams went to the state finals at Miami-Dade Junior College. The team captured five weight divisions, along with the Florida State Wrestling Championship Title.

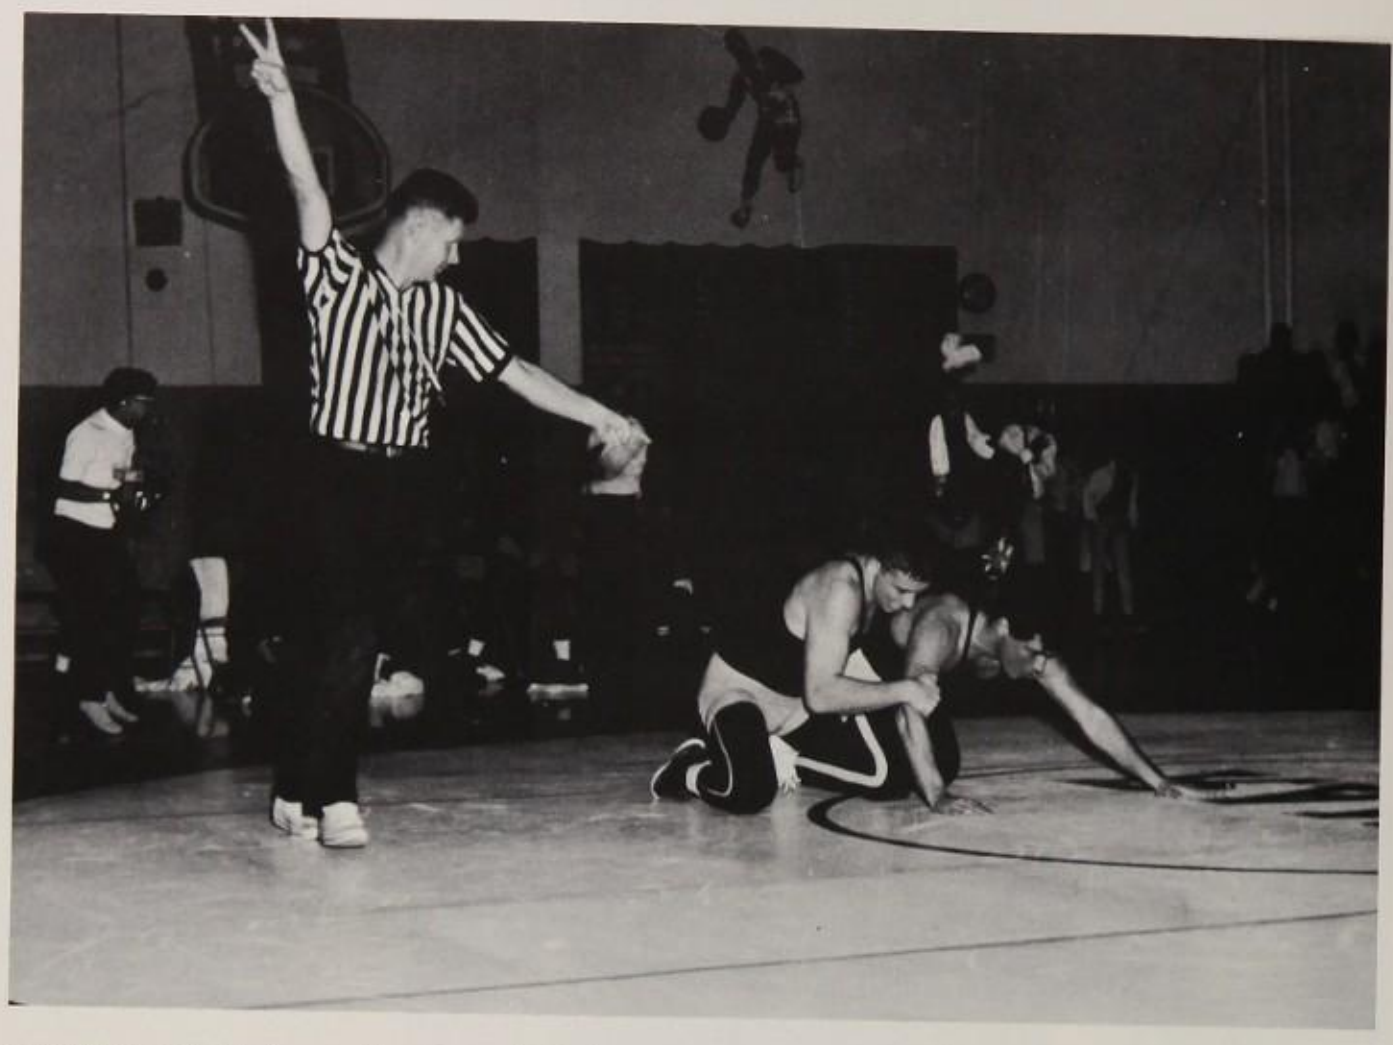
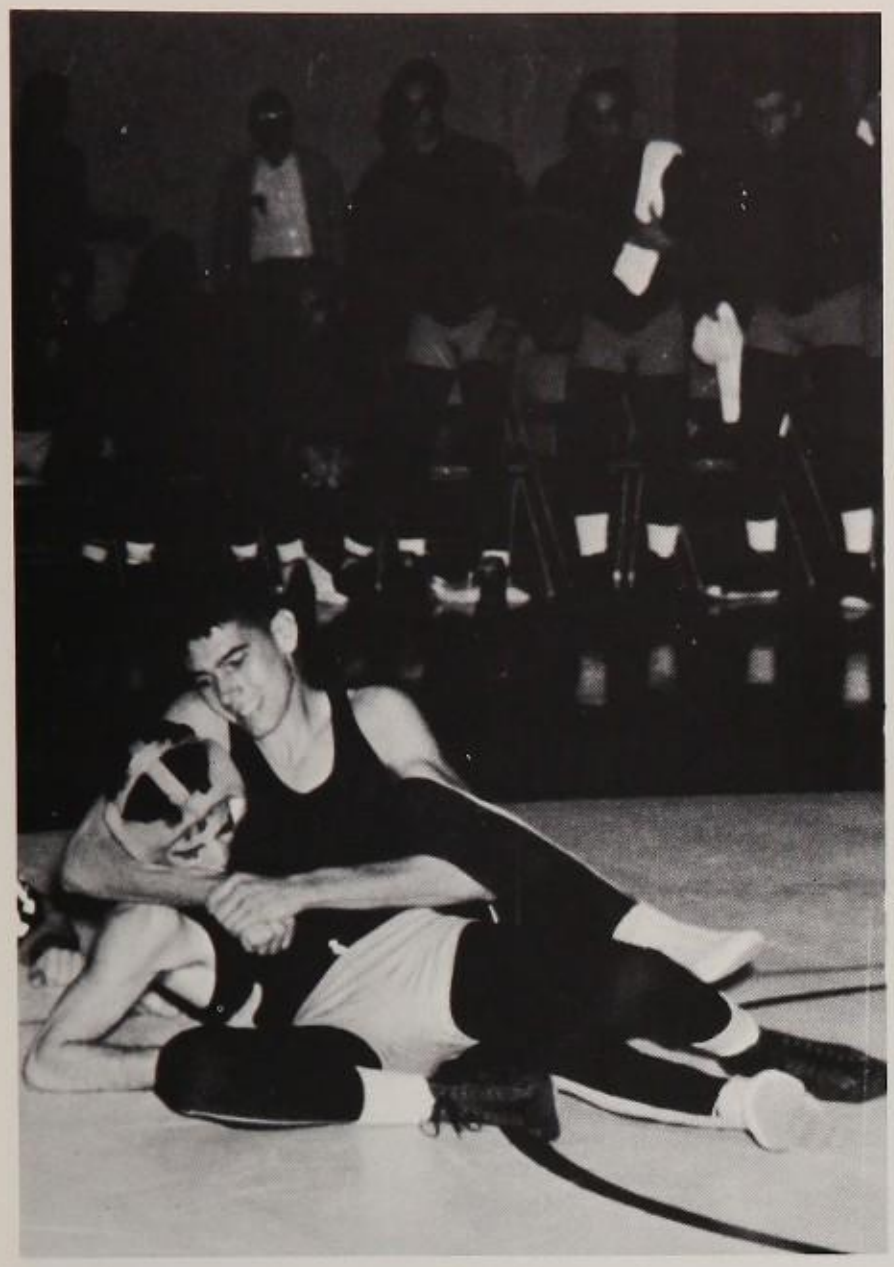
Wrestling for Coral Park's varsity team this year, John Jacobs, a junior, prepares to bring down an adversary in an important home match. The team can look forward to having John as a member next year.



In what was probably the most important win of the season, Louie Wallen scores two points against Norland's Joe LaMotta, who was thought to be the state's best wrestler. Louie won by a last second takedown.

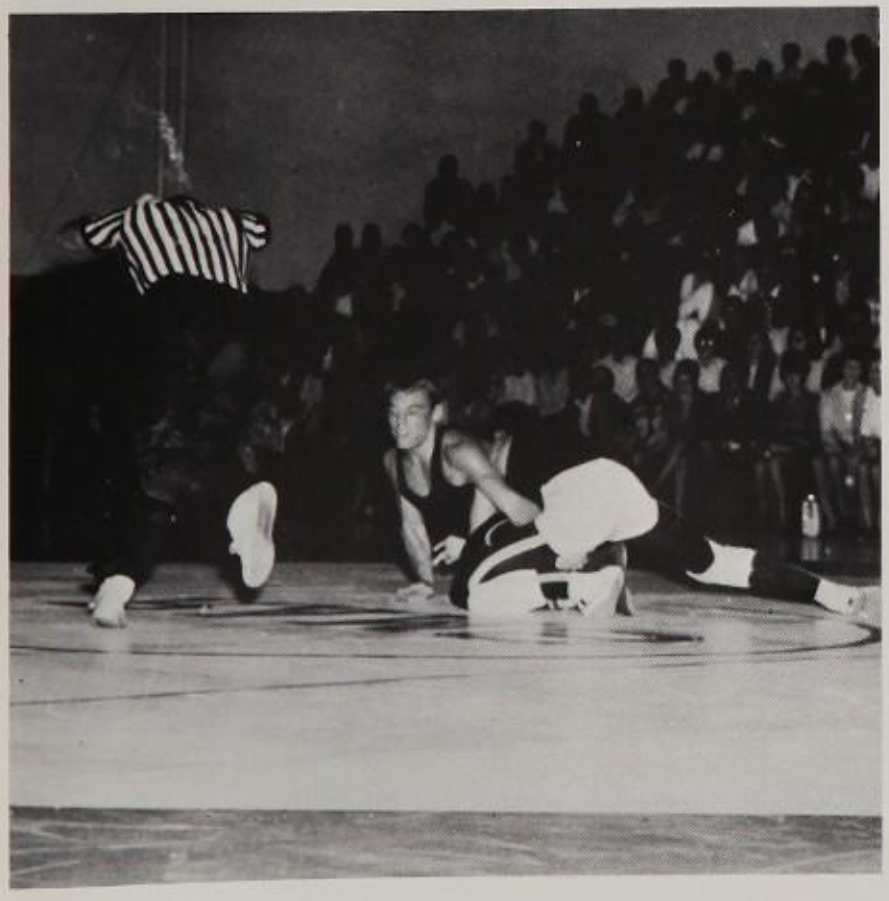
Scoring a near fall against his Norland opponent is senior Larry Sokol. Coral Park defeated Norland, last years defending state champions, 32-13.

In full control of his opponent is junior Neil Paskewitz. Neil won the match with a first period pin.

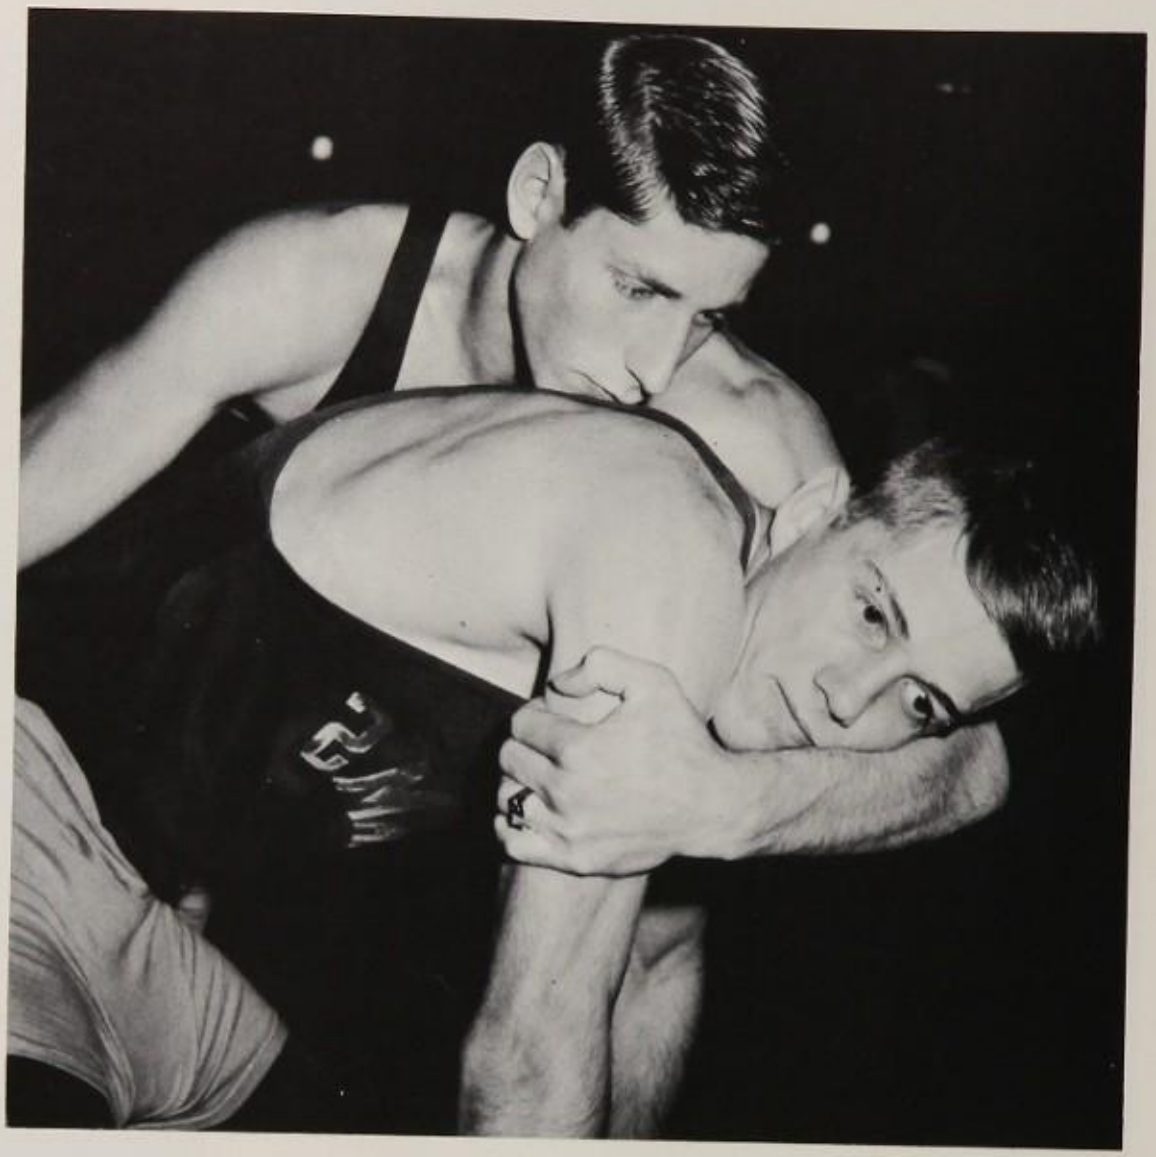


Battling for control of his opponent is Justo Perez, as several team members add vocal support to his efforts. He lost by a decision.

Gaining the advantage against a Palmetto matman in a preliminary match of the meet, Rudy Gervais gains experience that will be valuable in the future.



Grappling with determination for the advantage against a Norland wrestler is Coral Park's Greg Coyle, as the large crowd urges him on.



Practicing important wrestling maneuvers are Larry Sokol in the top position, and Rudy Gervais in the bottom position. Larry was one of the team's best wrestlers.

During a daily practice of the team, varsity wrestler Joey Parker demonstrates a reverse to another squad member. Strength, agility, and coordination are all necessary qualities of an adept wrestler.

Returning Athletes Spark Gym Team

Gymnastics coach Don Holder was aided this year by returning lettermen, as well as enthusiastic newcomers.

The sidehorse team, consisting of two veterans, led the Ram charge with first, second and third place monopolies in the meets. Jay Gartman, Ruben Ruiz, and Richard Webber were the top sidehorse performers.

Leading the gymnasts team point-wise was all-around man Steve Byers. Henry Small and Chris Bishop were the other two major contenders in the floor exercise events.

Elliott Lampert led the team on the longhorse with Tom Trapani, Robin Brown, Harold McCloud, and Steve Auriemma.

Steve Byers, undefeated on the rings for the season, was aided by teammates Jim Jackson and Ken Wiggins.

Captains for the 1967 team were Ruben Ruiz and Henry Small.

Demonstrating an iron cross on the still rings is Steve Byers, one of Coral Park's number one gymnasts this year.

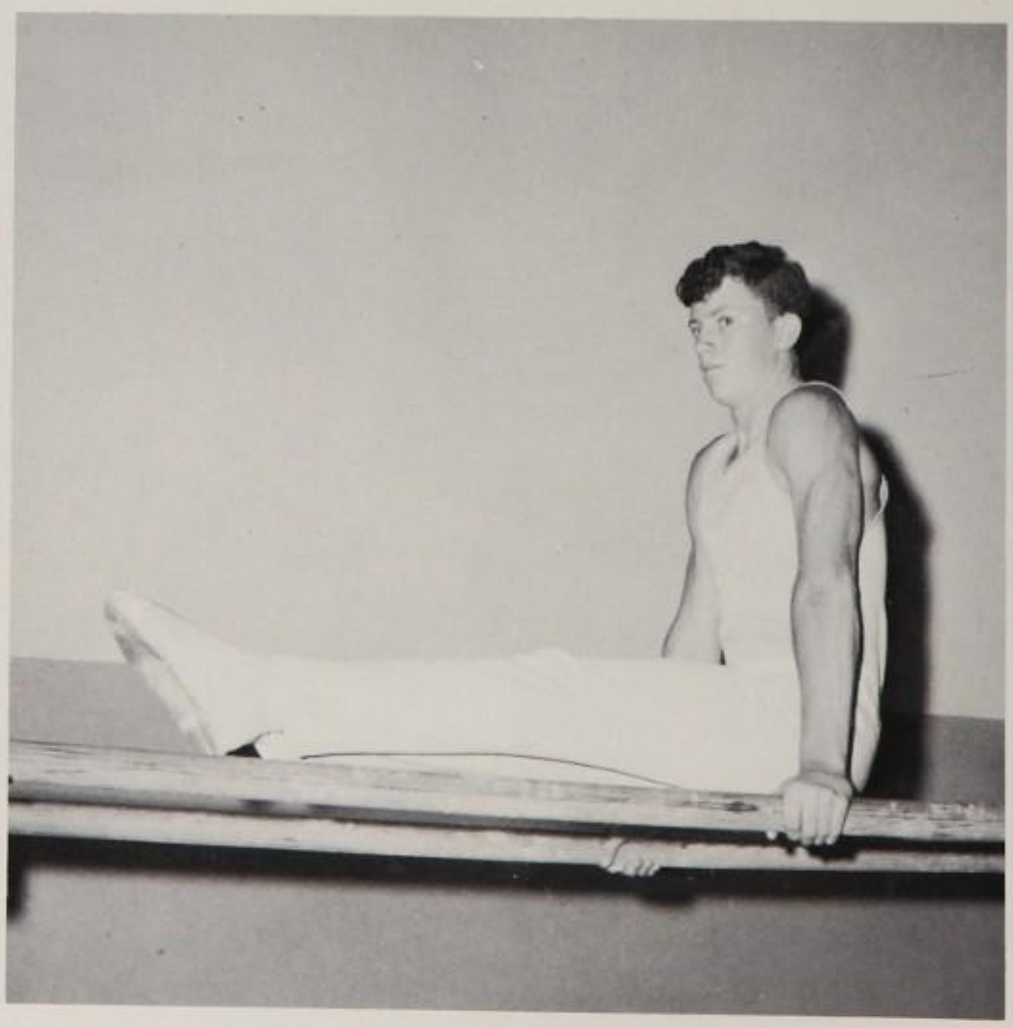
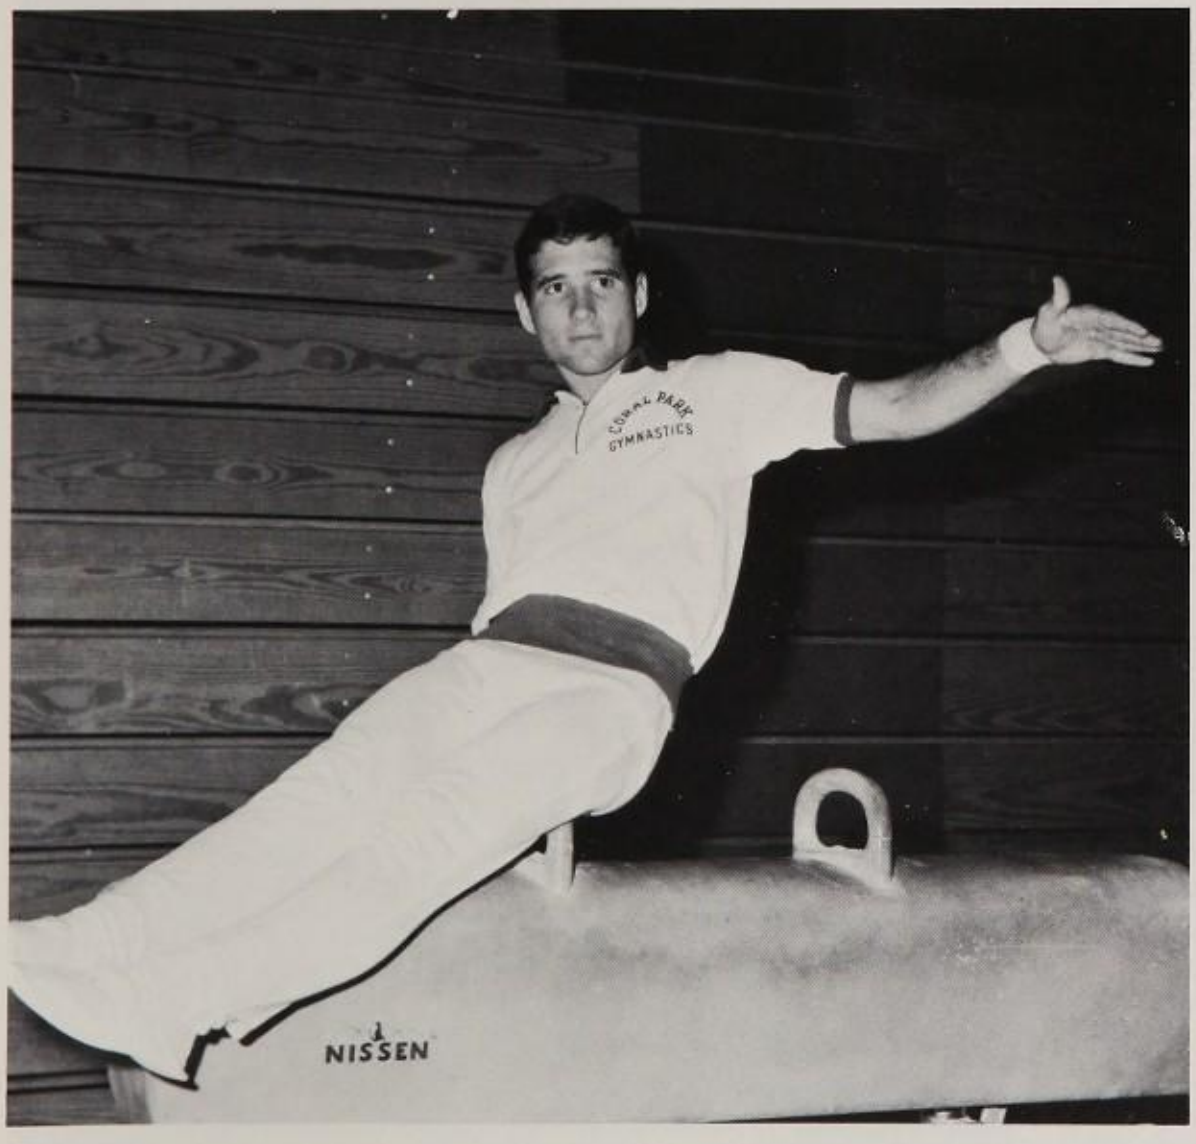
Jerry Westberg completes the giant swing on the chalked horizontal bar, adding more points to his routine.



Robin Brown, a sophomore member of the Ram gymnastics team, performs an "L" on the parallel bars. This position is part of a straddle exercise routine.

Coach Don Holder, Coral Park's gymnastic coach, instructs Lor Bader, Tom Trapani, Henry Small, and Ruben Ruiz on how to properly execute an Iron Cross. He does so by demonstrating his olympic form on the still rings while the gymnasts look on.



Jay Gartman performs a kerr-out on the sidehorse, one of the hardest gym apparatus. Three years of veteranship in gymnastics has enabled Jay to make this stunt appear easier than it is.

Track Team Faces Tough Competitors

Being second in the state last year gave the 1967 edition of the Coral Park track and field team a high goal for which to shoot. The team finished with a very respectable record at the end of the season. A perfect record was marred only by a rather slow development of potential at the start of the season and tough competitors at all meets.

The track team actually consists of two distinct branches, the cross country team and the regular track and field team. Some of the different events in these areas include the sprints and relays, the shot put, discus, hurdles, pole vault, high jump and broad jump. Leadership is a basic requirement for any team, provided by coaches Fred Cooley and Henry Raiford.

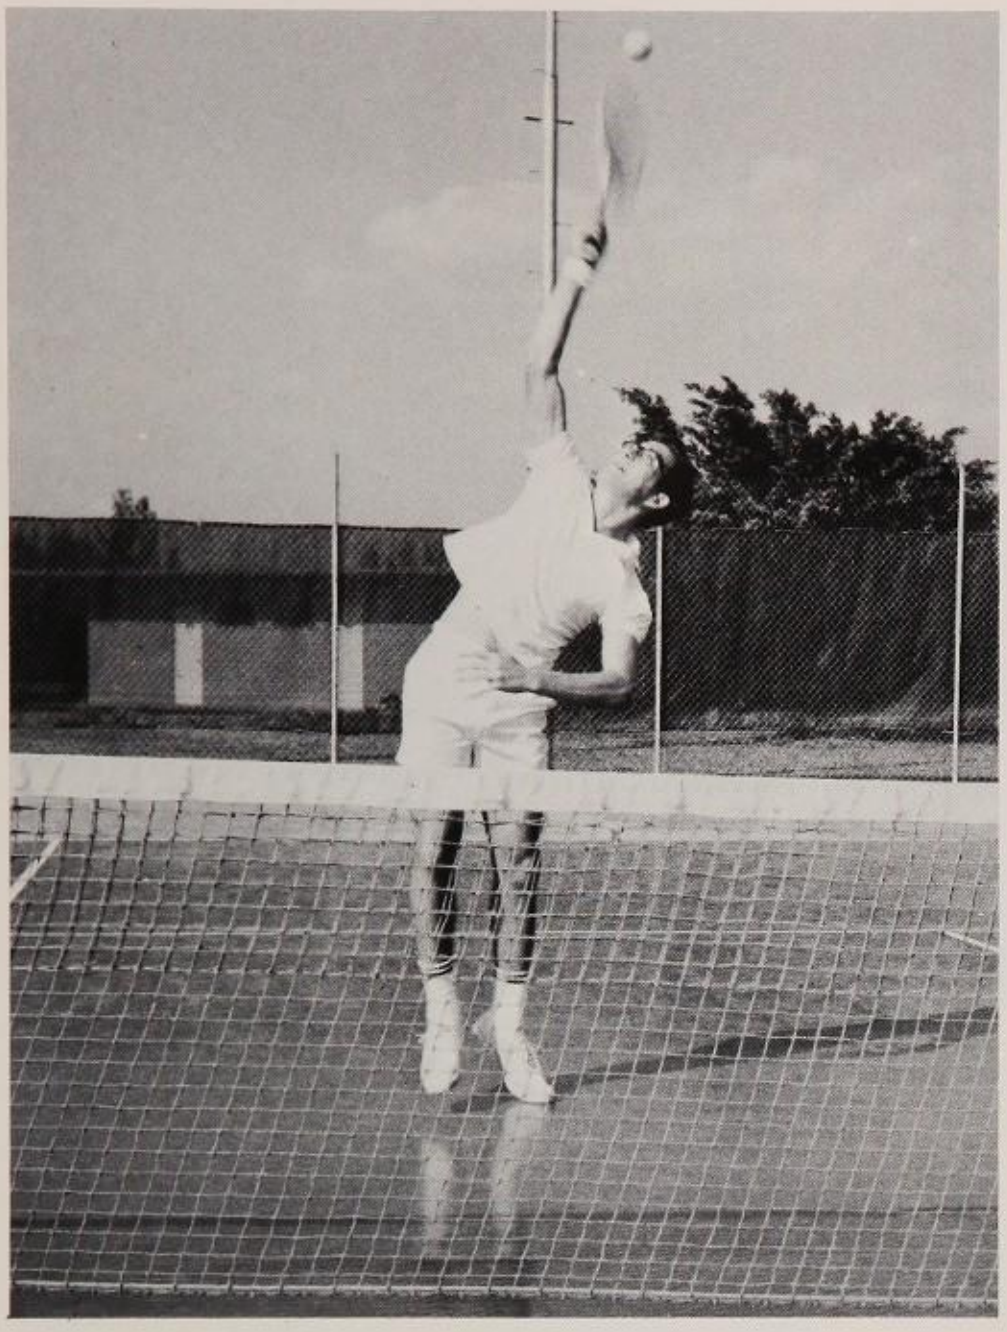
Dedicated Members Meet With Success

The tennis team, coached by Mr. Richard Grant, had a successful 1967 season. The team was particularly aided by the depth of its players, which it lacked in previous years.

Each day determined members walked from Coral Park to the YMHA, where practices lasted until late in the afternoon. On the girls' team the first three positions were held by returning lettermen Nicki Horn, Patsy Johnson, and Betty Manning. Also starting were Diane Billups and Lynn Weissinger. The boys' team featured senior letterman Guido Alvarez and junior lettermen Jim Mills and Robert Kranz. Other members of the team were Fred Bayler, Robert White, Robert Barnes, Ray Shenfield, Dan Robinson, and Ted Zelman. Managers for the team were Jim Loiacono and Max Cohen.

Striving to improve her position, Betty Manning strains to ace her teammate in a practice match at the YMHA.



Returning a high volley Robert Kranz wins a set and a victory for the tennis team. Team members practiced since the start of school in September.

Foursome Swings Into Victory Drive

Under the direction of Mr. Charles Wright, the golf team of Coral Park continued in the tradition of competing in true Ram spirit. The team includes such standouts as returning golfers Bill Gebhardt, Bill Cox, Tom McCarthy, and Mark Aronson. New members of the team were Danny Dubin, John Watson, Duane Burel and Fred Diaz. The team practiced at the Miami Springs Country Club golf course. Competing with teams from Miami Beach, Miami Springs, Southwest, Coral Gables, Miami High, South Dade and other schools, the team worked hard at improving their game. The many hours of practice put in by the Coral Park Golfers paid off in a fine season for the team.

Hitting out of the sand trap at the Miami Springs golf course, Marc Aronson gets back into the swing of things.

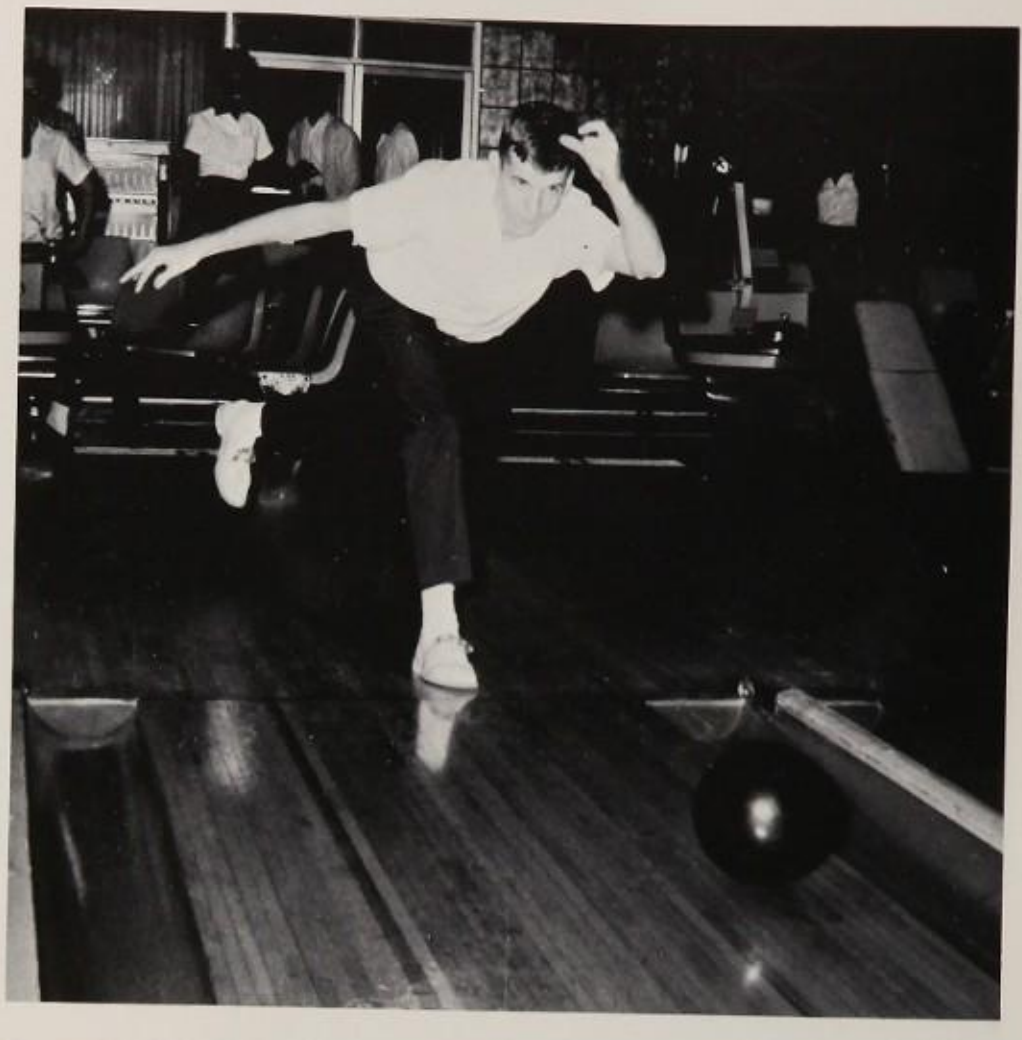
Pins Fly As Rams Strike Up Victories

Mr. Frank Toscano, Coral Park's new bowling coach, led the 1967 team through a successful season. The team, backed by returning girl bowlers Ronye Kreiner, Meridyth Ellison, Kathy Weber, Alana Goldstein, sisters Lorrie and Arlene Dale, and last year's boys, Roger Pratt, Terry DeRousse, and James Kuhn, went into full swing in the spring. Coral Gables, Southwest, Palmetto, and South Dade presented stiff competition.

Many hours of determined practice were spent by the team improving their bowling form, and upholding the high county-wide position held by the 1966 team. With several varsity bowlers from both the girl's and the boy's teams returning for the coming season, the group has high hopes for 1968.



A member of Coral Park's bowling team for two years, Terry DeRousse shoots for a strike, demonstrating form that results from many hours of practice.

CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

Gold Coast Conference
Dade County Championships
District 7 State Meet
State AA Championship Meet

One of the fastest growing sports at Coral Park is swimming, which has its season through the winter months, thanks to a generally favorable South Florida climate. The swim team consists of both a boys and a girls division, each of which participates strictly in its own division against other schools, although both teams participate at the same meets. The combined team holds its practices every day during sixth period at the near-by Y.M.H.A., under the direction of Coach Dan Cavanaugh. Some of the events in the teams competition include the breaststroke, backstroke, the butterfly and the freestyle. Although most meets are local, members of the team have traveled as far as Atlanta, Georgia for special meets during the season.

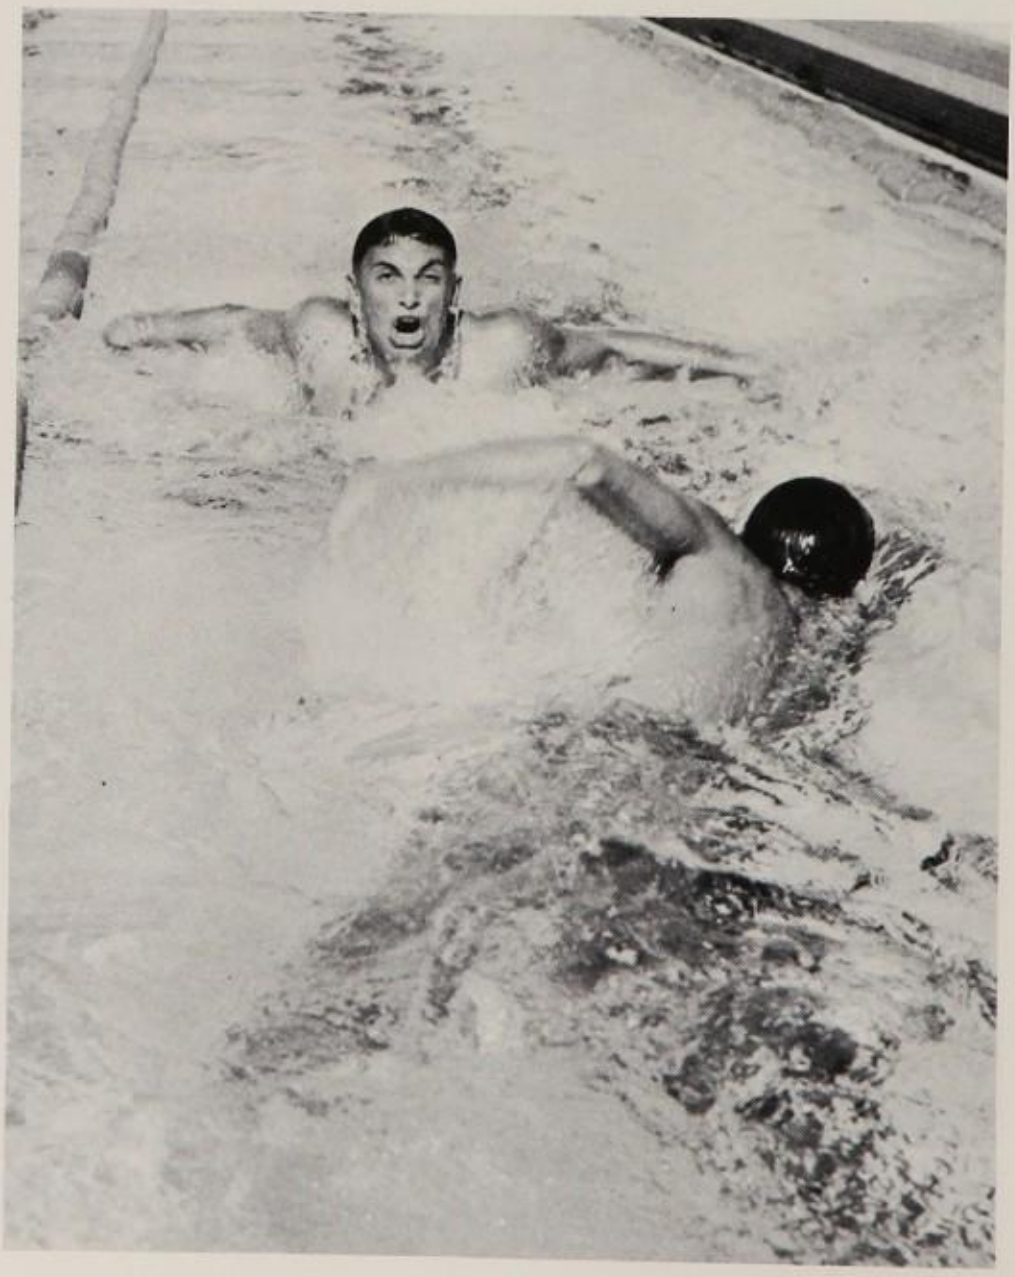
While junior Bob Boger appears suspended in mid-air over the water he is actually practicing his high diving form.

On one of the cooler practice days team members Scott Boddy, Mike Ruskin and Lyle Rich prepare to take their places as Diane Kisida and Chuck Knupp head for the water.

Swimming is one of the sports at Coral Park which requires a lot of endurance. Practicing the art of swimming without breathing underwater are Janis Lewis, Shirley Duffy, and Cary Hersh, all of whom should be surfacing shortly.

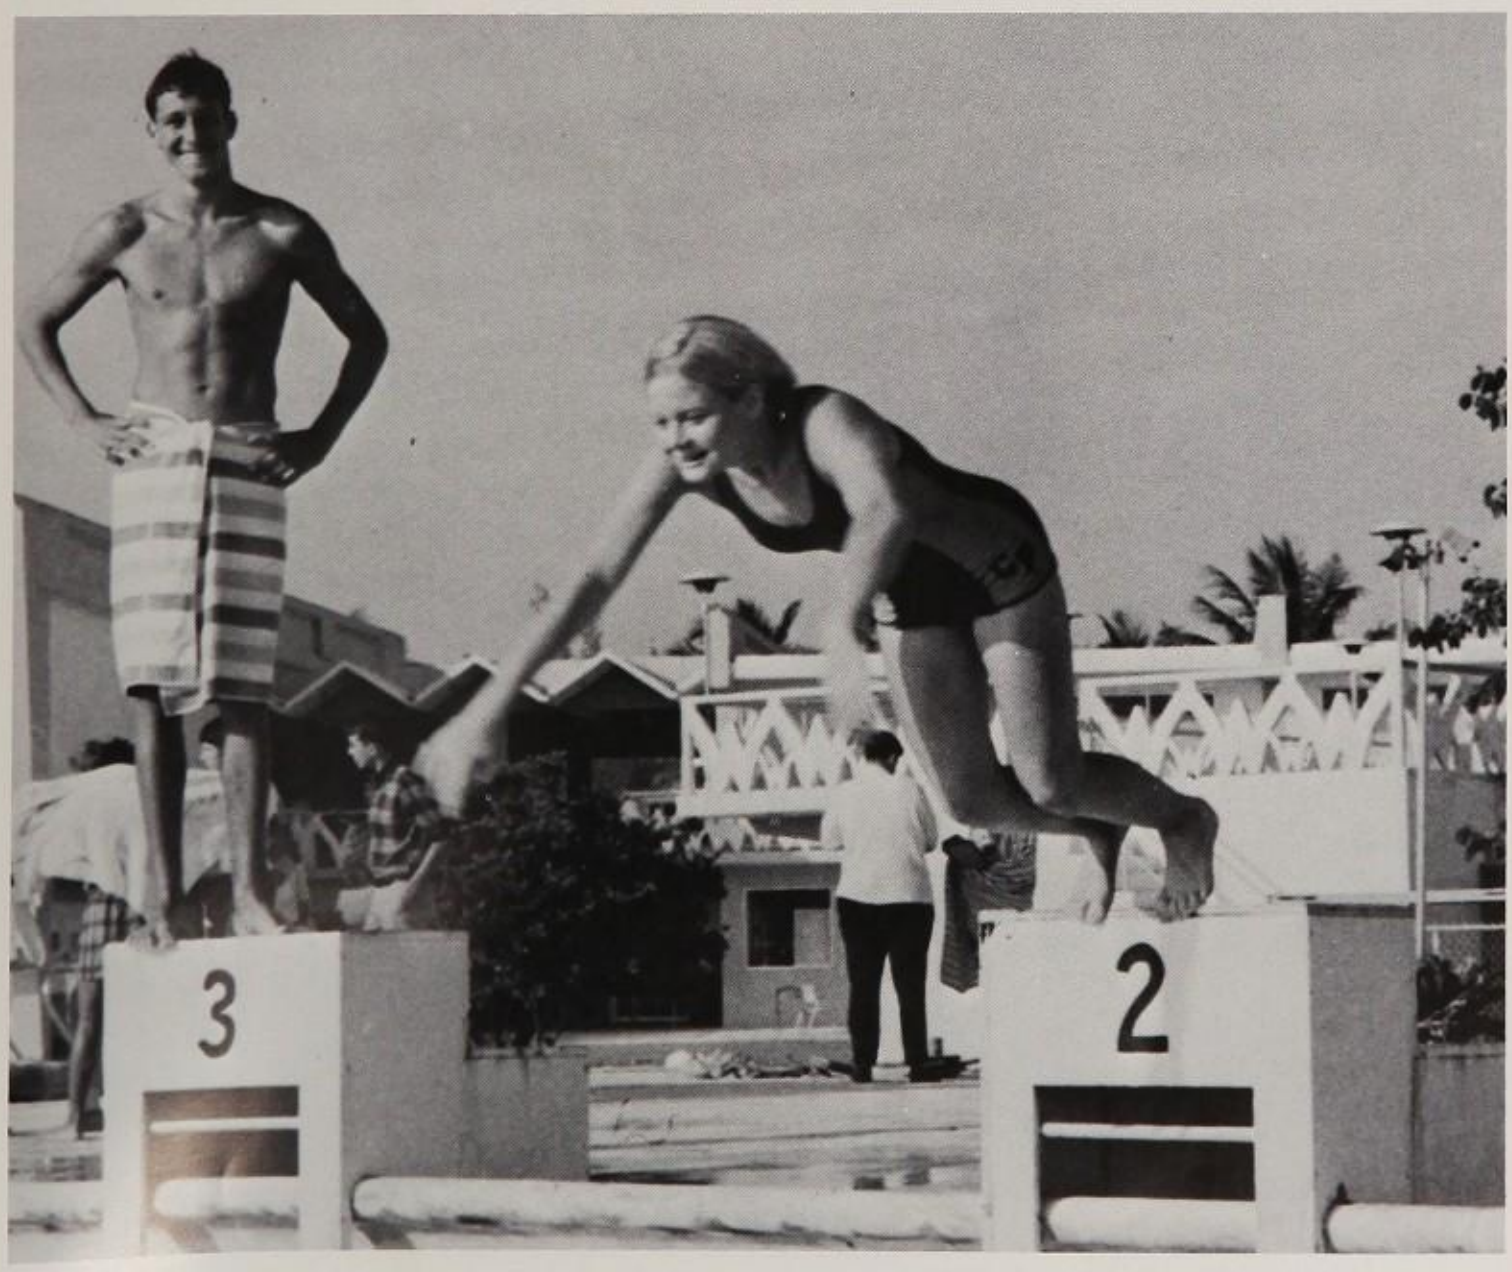
All American senior swimmer Shirley Duffy maneuvers in a watery element at the Y.M.H.A. pool, located near school.



Senior member of the swim team Marc Denger puts a great deal of effort into his backstroke in an attempt to outdistance his fast approaching competitor.

Charles Knupp and Shirley Duffy stand ready to jump from the high dive.

To ensure safety to the swimmers as well as speed in the meets, any pool used for competition must be equally divided into sections by strings of long, uniform floats, as shown here.



While drying out in the warm sun atop a small diving platform at the Y.M.H.A. pool, senior Charles Knupp studies the diving form of junior Janis Lewis before attempting another dive into the cold water from his lofty position.

Coach Red Berry looks on as Lon Cornelius inspects "Iron Mike," the team's batting practice machine.

Ram Baseball Team Creates Fan Club

Swinging into the 1967 season with a no-hitter victory against Palmetto in the Miami Beach Invitational Tournament at Flamingo Park, the team kept up the tradition of first game victories set by previous Ram baseball teams. The Rams were led by captains Mike Fulford, Mike Kirchoff, and Ray Feraco. Coach Red Berry was assisted this year by Mr. Phil Zelman. Coach Berry also introduced the Miami Coral Park Baseball Player's Fan Club, to increase student interest and attendance, as well as player morale, at the ball games. The player with the most fans received the Most Popular Player Award, a plaque that was put in the Coral Park trophy case, to be awarded each year.

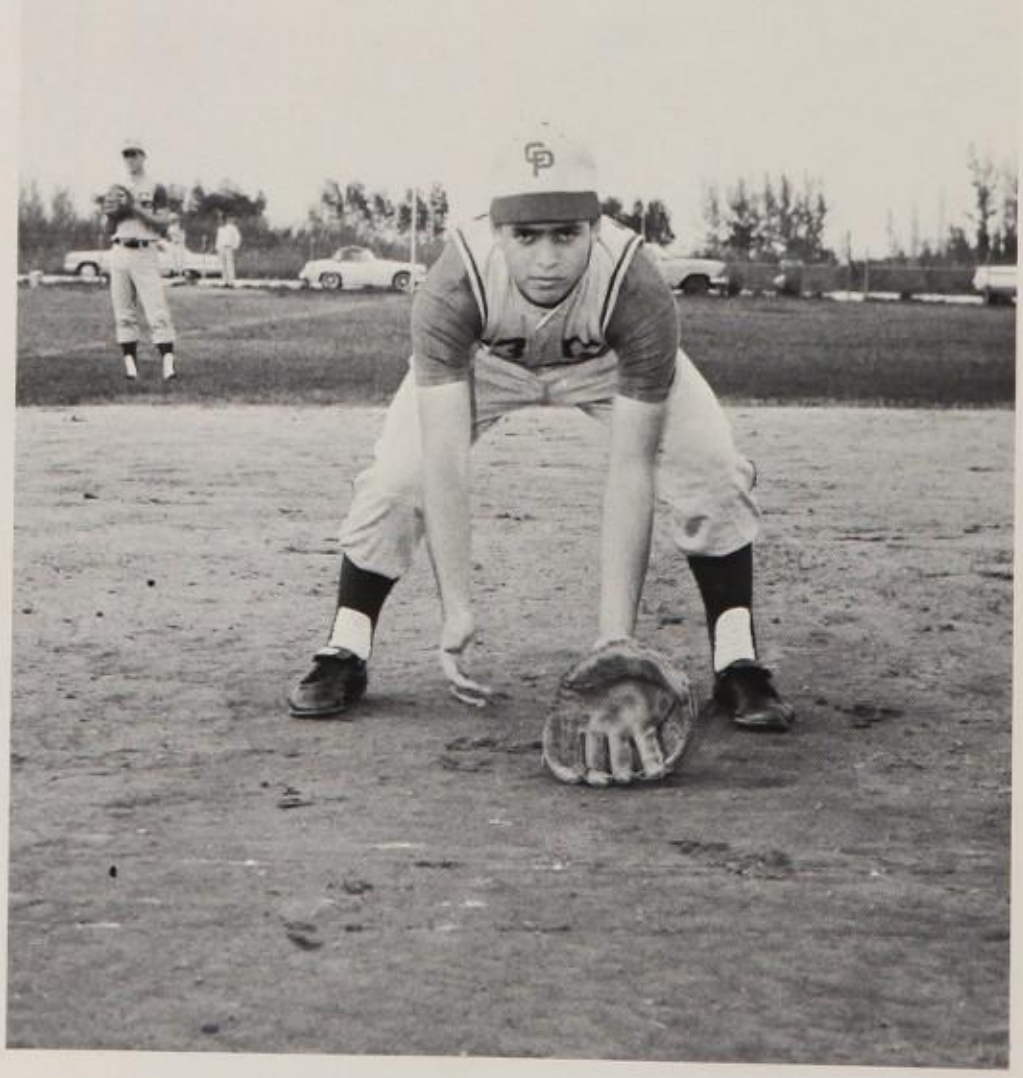
Taking a lead off first base is junior second baseman Mike Kirchoff, in the game against the U. of M. freshman baseball team.

Connecting solidly for a hit in an important Coral Park game is sophomore shortstop Tom Rosa, a team captain.



Junior infielder, Ray Feraco, displays his fielding stance at third base during the team's pre-game warm-ups on the Ram field, before the Edison game.

Running down the first base line at top speed is Coral Park's first baseman, Mike Fulford. Mike, a team captain, is one of the team's power hitters.

Telling the pitcher what pitch to throw is Ram catcher Jim Parrott. Such decisions require much practice.

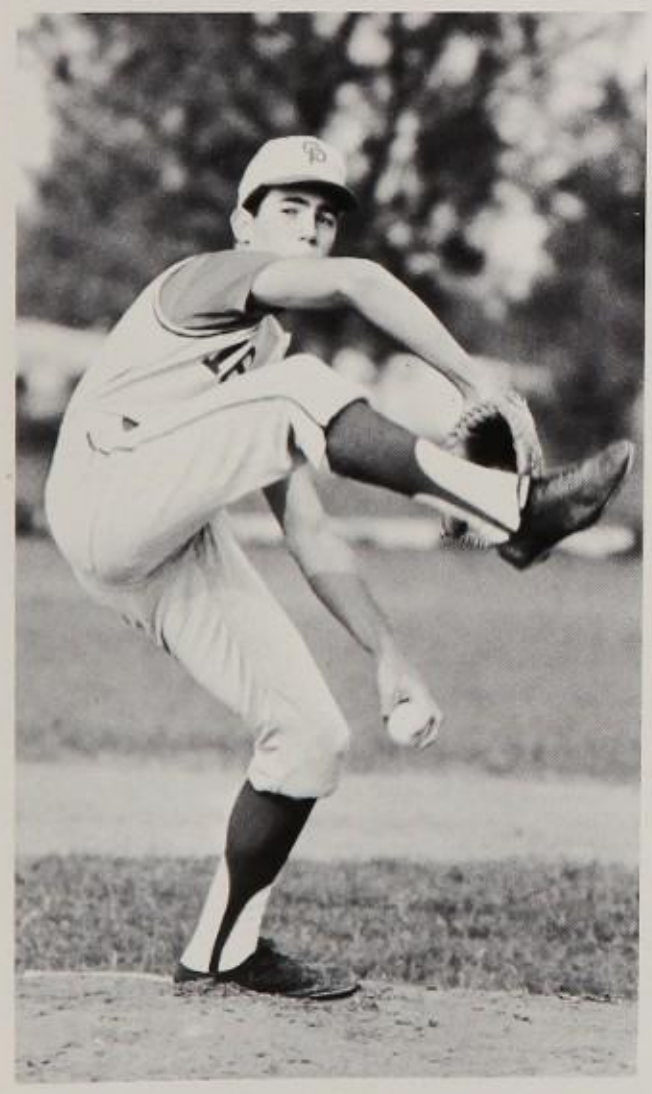
Doug McCoy pitches and Jim Parrott catches in a game against the University of Miami freshmen.

Doug McCoy takes his time before he throws to first baseman Mike Fulford for an easy put-out of a University of Miami freshman.

Discussing the lineup of a game, Coach Phil Zelman gives his suggestions to Coach Red Berry. The two coaches have proven that two heads are better than one, even when planning game strategy.

Junior second baseman Mike Kirchoff tosses the ball to sophomore shortstop Tom Rosa, who is covering second base. Constant practice of plays like this results in quickly executed put-outs.



High on the mound is senior pitcher Mike Boston. His pitching form is the result of determined practice.

One of the team's captains, third baseman Ray Feraco, throws the ball he has just fielded to first base.

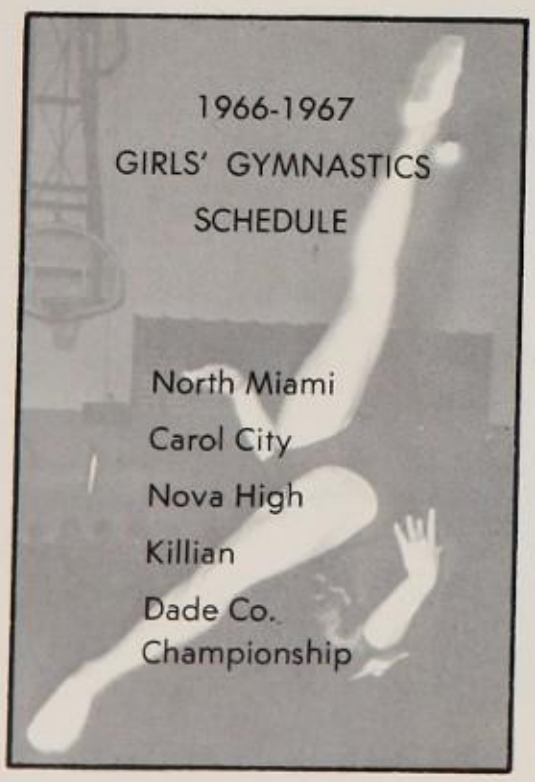
Girls Show Grace In Acrobatic Skills

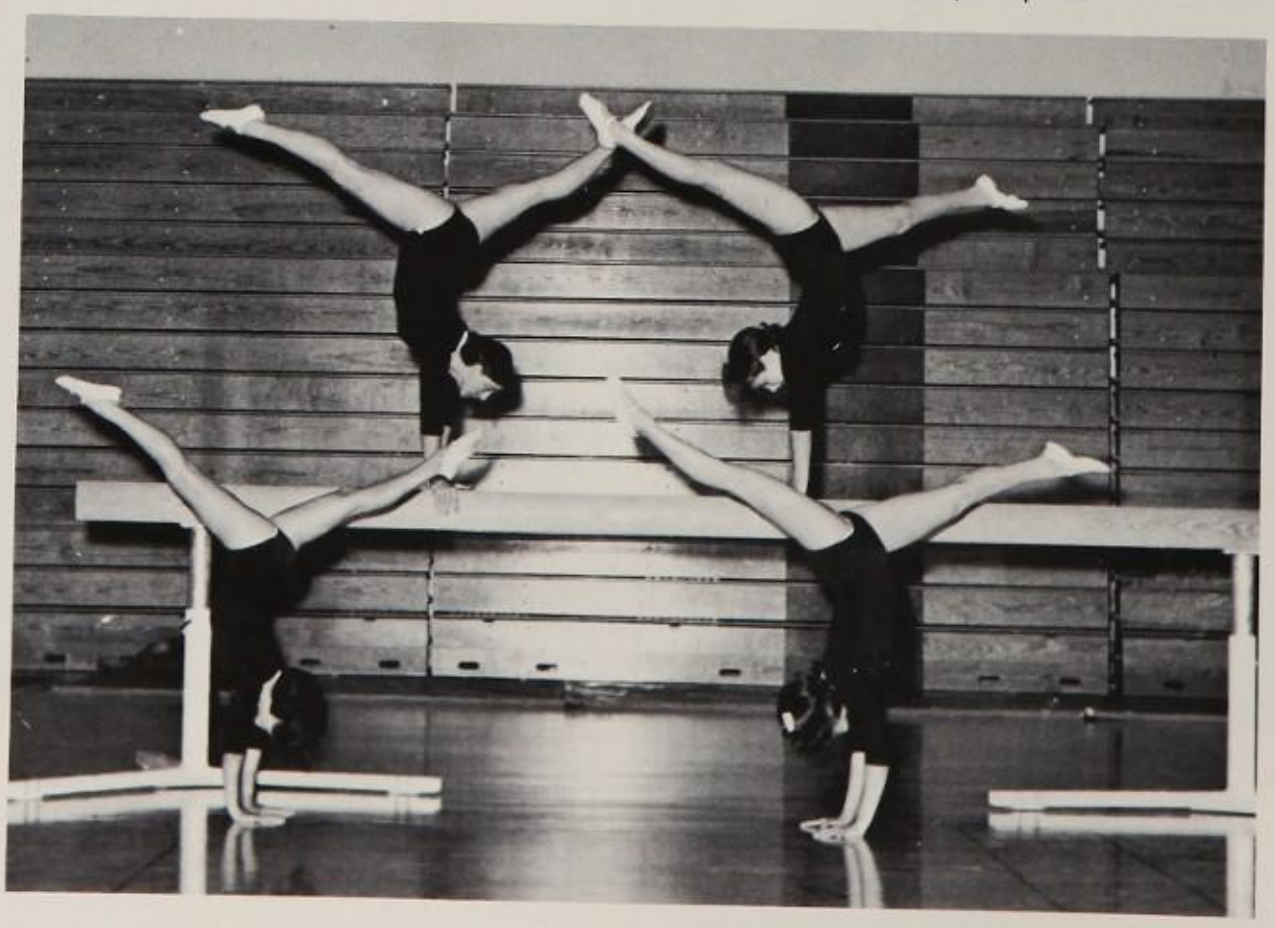
Coral Park's girls gymnastics team is composed of energetic, female physical enthusiasts. The team practiced long hours after school. The girls met and defeated five Dade County schools and remained undefeated for the third year.

The varsity team consisted of ten gymnasts who competed in five events. These girls proved that though it's hard work and takes a great deal of practice, girls may also share in a strenuous physical sport, one that is often reserved for boys. Grace, coordination, and endurance all played a major role in the performance and training of the team.

Guided by Mrs. Irene Garriga, the members participated in tumbling, uneven parallel bars, sidehorse, vaulting, free exercise, and balance beam events.

During a gymnastics practice, Amy Bajoczky does a yogi hand-stand while others look on. This is just one of the many events in which she participates.





Joan Lauter and Chris Nichols practice the split handstand on the balance beam for an up-coming meet while their partners Jeanie McMahon and Ruthann Eckert perform a similar floor maneuver.

Girls Sports Offers Numerous Activities

Probably the least known of the many sports at Coral Park are those activities which fall under the heading of girls sports. Although first started during the school's opening year, girls sports have not received recognition as other sports have, mainly because it encompasses so many activities. Instead of concentrating in just one area, girls sports include such sports as volleyball, basketball, track, badminton, gymnastics and softball. To make the "A" team, a girl must first prove her worth in intramural competition. The girls participating in girls sports can earn letters just as in any other sport, a thousand points being necessary for a letter. The activities are under the direction of Mrs. Irene Garriga.

Shooting for the basket over the heads of the Miami Springs defenders is junior team member Charlene Wise, as Cathy Wolfe studies the action nearby.

Dade director of physical education Mr. Ted Bleir awards Pam Hughes the Dade Volleyball Championship.

The enthusiastic spectators silently pray for victory, during one of the many critical moments of the game, with a "good luck-finger-cross". School spirit can be observed in the excited crowds whenever and wherever the Rams participate.

Members of Coral Park's junior varsity football squad listen as the introduction of their teammates is being made. This pep rally was held before the last game in honor of the baby Rams and their fine season this year.

A rushed student, Mabel McGee, snatches a quick drink on her way to her English class. Drinking fountains are not only thirst quenchers, but sites for varied rendezvous.

With just four minutes between classes, stairways such as this one demonstrate the fact that Coral Park students are always on the move. Although some students feel that four minutes is not enough time to get to and from classes, such complaints do not last long, and most make it on time every day.

N.H.S. Membership Taps Top Students

The National Honor Society is a nationally recognized honor society, and belonging to the organization plays an important part in the school connected activities of its members. To be tapped for membership in the club, prospective members must have a 3.5 average.

In December, the club gave an honor roll tea and sponsored "Operation Teenagers". The program was centered around the talks of four convicts who were invited to the school to give their life stories. They stressed the importance of education and the right attitudes in adolescence. Year-round the group tutored students who especially needed aid in many subjects and every two weeks they held a Great Books Discussion.

Members were also in charge of planning and putting on the annual honors day assembly.

Math Honor Helps Other Acadamicians

Service to Coral Park is of great importance to the Math Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta. The group sponsored a year-round math "help" program for students, which was probably its best known project. Members of the club volunteered to tutor fellow mathematicians who needed additional instructions at various levels.

In addition, Coral Park's Math Honor Society participated in a variety of activities with other schools. Early in the school year the group met at Southwest to compete in a math contest. They also sponsored the math banquet, an affair attended by various high school representatives in the county.

Active socially as well, the society gave a year's end party with the Future Scientists of America.

Always an active group at Coral Park, the National Forensic League is the national debate and speech honor society. It offers recognition to students who have perfected skills in effective public speaking.

In October, four members of Coral Park's Forensic League represented Coral Park at the State Student Congress at Tallahassee. Winning high honors were Marty Remland, president of the N.F.L. at Coral Park, and Sheldon Konigsberg, captain of the debate team.

Coral Park won the Dade Junior College tournament and placed third in the annually held national debate tournament at Miami Beach Senior High.

As it had done in past years, the N.F.L. published the school's calendar, and assisted in several programs presented to the student body.

Sociedad Furthers Language Interests

The purpose of the Spanish National Honor Society, the Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica, is to recognize achievement in Spanish by students of secondary schools and to promote continuity of interest in the Hispanic studies.

At Coral Park, the members of the Pio Baroja chapter combined efforts in projects and activities relating to the study of Spanish. The group worked together to increase the interest in Spanish and in the Society, in regular school classes as well as in the community.

The Society's motto is Todos o Una "all or one." Members must be juniors or seniors and must maintain a 3.75 scholastic average in Spanish. The seal is that of the American Association of Spanish Teachers, and its colors are red and gold.

Société Honoraire Rewards Scholars

Sponsored by Mrs. Yolanda Kellogg, the French Honor Society is composed of those French students who have been able to maintain a 3.75 average in their French classes. This year membership in the society was very small due to the strict requirements.

Besides promoting higher standards of scholarship and rewarding high scholastic attainment, the society strove to stimulate interest in the study of French and to create enthusiasm for an understanding of French culture. Members worked to perpetuate Franco-American friendships and to reward non-members' efforts in furthering Franco-American relations. Several members corresponded with French penpals, and through them learned much more about French life than was disclosed by classroom discussions.

Members Exemplify Enthusiasm for Art

One of the first honor societies established at Coral Park, the Pen and Sable Art Honor Society requires a grade average of 4.0 in art, a stiff but attainable prerequisite for the truly interested student.

Pen and Sable aims at furthering its members' understanding of the many facets of fine art and of giving art students an opportunity to meet other people with similar interests. Members took an active part in the annual art exhibit, a public display which drew from the talent of several school art organizations. As a group they toured the Burdine's Art Exhibit, among others, and visited an artist's studio where they learned etching processes.

Throughout the year the club listened to guest speakers and viewed pertinent films.

Quill and Scroll, under the direction of Mr. Gerald Stone, is the international honor society for high school journalists. The society takes an active part in raising standards in the field of scholastic journalism. The membership is very limited, for only students who actively participate in either the school newspaper or school yearbook are eligible. Those students who become members of Quill and Scroll are also eligible to enter many national contests and to obtain additional information to further their knowledge in the field of journalism. These additional services also encourage the members to continue with their journalism pursuits. Academically, Quill and Scroll members must be in the top third in their class.

Writing a headline for the Rampage are Quill & Scroll members Gail Merein, a junior, and Mary Schoonover, a senior. Both were inducted into the honorary society this year.

Hard at work designing a layout for another issue of the Rampage is senior Ellen Schlossberg. Layout design is an important part of newspaper and yearbook production.

Thespians, an honor society made up of students especially interested in drama, requires members to have a 2.5 average upon entering the club, and must maintain it. Fifty or more hours of drama productions or drama-related activities are also needed, either in or out of school. Eligible students are tapped for membership in December and February.

In the second semester several Thespians attended the University of Miami Drama Festival. The majority of the cast members for "The Importance of Being Earnest" were Thespian members. They were responsible for presenting a play for the benefit of the student body in the latter part of the year, and many of the members took part in the annual Capers.

Members Explore Germany's Culture

One of the more recently formed language clubs in the school, Coral Park's German Club is in its second year of organization. The purpose of the club is to enable its members to learn more about German language and culture. Slides and films of persons who have traveled in Germany were shown throughout the year. Under the direction of Mr. James Hyland, the club participated in a wide variety of activities. Members supported the Inter-Club Council canned goods drive and also were instrumental in the formation of an inter-language organization. One of the club's main projects was the sponsoring of a trip to DeLand for a state-wide German Club Convention for several club members.

At a high-spirited meeting, Mr. James Hyland and the German Club discuss their up-coming trip to the Deland convention where they will gain insight into German culture.

Industrious Pupils Explore Language

Though it was not a chartered club in 1967, the independent Italian study group will be granted club status in the 1968 school year.

Founded and taught by Mrs. Joan Cormier, the club meets for about half an hour every Friday afternoon. Following the basic language course procedure, the dozen members listen to tapes for 25 minutes or so, then are instructed by Mrs. Cormier in the basic conversational elements of the language.

The group's members were chosen by Mrs. Cormier for their interest and ability in their particular languages. They meet to learn the fundamentals of Italian and the similarities between it and other Romance languages. Though a non-credit course, an evident advantage of membership is an increased enthusiasm for their particular language specialty.

'Dead' Latin Lives For Club Members

New this year, Coral Park's Latin Club is sponsored by Miss Helene Pirrette, and is affiliated with the National Latin Honor Society. Dedicated to the promotion of the study of Latin, the members have chosen a motto, "O tempora, O mores!", or, "Oh the times, Oh the manners!"

Though a dead language in that it is no longer spoken, Latin "lives", as many of our present words are derivatives of Latin ones, and most biological classifications are in Latin. Students also gain insight into ancient Roman culture through their translations.

On February 11, the Latin Club participated in a Latin Forum which took place at Ponce de Leon Junior High School. Later in the year the members attended the State Latin Forum in Clearwater, Florida, from April 14 to April 16.

After school, Latin Club members discuss plans for attending the upcoming Latin Forum. Their sponsor, Mrs. Helene Pirritte, helps the group organize their activities.

Lynne Lear, editor of the 1967 Arieon, held the responsibility of seeing that deadlines were met and standards upheld in producing the second hard-bound edition of Coral Park's yearbook.

As a class, the staff worked steadily through the first semester and half of the second to make the yearbook a factual recording of the year's events. Members often stayed past five o'clock as deadlines drew near and copy sheets needed perfecting. Excitement reigned when proofs were returned for a final check.

Mr. Gerald Stone, faculty advisor, worked with the sixteen members. He accompanied the group when it attended the South District Florida Scholastic Press Conference at Coral Gables Senior High and went with several members to the Columbia Scholastic Press Convention in New York City.

Yearbook staff members, Linda Salzman, Wanda Oehlert, Betsy Siflinger, Sharon Fogel and Diana Griffin pause a moment from writing captions, which is one of the most time consuming jobs.

Editor-in-Chief Lynne Lear discusses future Arieon plans with Robert Dorlon, Ken Berger and Raul Rodriguez. Staff consultations help straighten out some of the problems which occur during yearbook production.

Cheryl Cribbs, Isabel Ralston, and Fran Fodiman sort pictures during one of the many after school sessions which are necessary to get the yearbook to the publisher on time.

Art Club Combines Skill and Service

Coral Park's art department has many talented and interested students. Mr. David Lloyd Smith, one of our art instructors, discusses a technique with a few of his students.

Though an interest club, the Art Club was active in service areas during the year. Members worked to advertise American Education Week and the Booster Club dance. In November, working with the other school clubs, Art Interest participated in the Inter-club Council canned food drive, and netted 300 cans.

The club took part in an individual art competition at Vizcaya, and visited a private art studio where members heard lectures and saw demonstrations. At Christmas the club made Christmas cards which students bought to send to soldiers in Vietnam. Later in the year, Art Interest members presented a program at a public recreation center. They made decorations for the Senior Sweetheart Dance in February, and for the senior prom in June.

Senior Girls Gain Work Experience

Girls in the C.B.E. program are given the opportunity to work in a competitive business atmosphere while still in high school. C.B.E. clubs are found in schools throughout Dade County and Florida.

Coral Park's cooperative Business Education Club sent representatives to the 29th annual meeting of the District 10, Cooperative Education Clubs of Florida, at the Dupont Plaza Hotel.

In December of 1966 members of the C.B.E. Club gave a Christmas party for about forty needy children from Douglas Elementary School and provided gifts and refreshments for all.

February found the club throwing the annual Employer-Employee Banquet to promote better relationships between the businessmen and the C.B.E. high school girls they employed during the school year.

At a joint breakfast, enjoyed each week by C.B.E. and D.E.C.A., members wait to be served at the Pancake House.

D.E.C.A., the Distributive Education Clubs of America, is primarily a social function of the distributive education program, and it coincides with the class.

The classroom instruction of Distributive Education provides the students with a general insight into the theory of business, and also includes one period every day related to each students' individual job.

The year's activities included several social gatherings, and outings related to the D.E. program. Probably the major event of the year was the State Leadership Conference, attended by students who competed in various business contests. Another large event was the county-wide employer-employee banquet. Students invited their employers to a dinner banquet to show their appreciation for the employers' help and guidance in the D.E. program.

Seniors Jane Lambert and Christine Schefke, two members of DECA, are working on club records. Record keeping is an important skill.

Homemakers Seek Cooking Knowhow

Sponsored by the school's two Home Economics teachers, Miss Emily Campbell and Mrs. Frances O'Brien, the FHA consists of a group of girls who need no requirements other than being interested in home economics. Through the club the girls seek to better their cooking and sewing skills and learn to appreciate their newly-acquired knowledge.

President Anne McLaughlin leads the Future Homemakers in working for a better home and community. The girls encouraged close family relations in the home and emphasized the importance of a good family relationship. They concentrated their efforts on furthering their knowledge, but found time to support the Inter-club Council canned food drive. Over the Christmas holidays members met to bake cookies for migrant workers.

Scientists Discuss Future Objectives

Sponsored by Miss Barbara Silver, the general purpose of the Future Scientists of America is to provide a meeting place for students interested in specific areas of science. When sponsoring lectures, members of the student body as well as club members may attend.

Demanding high standards, the F.S.A. requires members to maintain a 3.5 scholastic average and honor students to hold a 4.0 average. All students must obtain a recommendation from a teacher to join.

Invited by the club to speak on various topics, lecturers attended meetings and discussed future opportunities in several fields. The group went on a field trip to the University of Miami Marine Biology Lab, visited the Museum of Science and Natural History, and toured the Planetarium.

Norma Agras, Gail Kallins, and Ellen Auffhammer, members of FSA, work after school to improve their scientific knowledge.

Future Secretaries Prepare For Jobs

Formed in October of 1966, the Future Secretaries of America had its first installation of officers in January, 1967. In spite of its youth as a working organization, the club has participated in several business related activities. Members attended a seminar at the University of Miami, sponsored by the National Secretaries of America. Later, the Business Women of Dade County sponsored a workshop for all future secretaries in the Dade area The same club gave a grooming clinic for future secretaries in which the Coral Park branch of the F.S.A. participated. Business-wing bulletin boards got a facelifting every time members decorated them.

One of the most immediate accomplishments was the effective formulation of a constitution in January.

Busily at work are Keitha Bryan and Sherry Peel, typing away trying to help the Social Studies Department, one of FSA's projects. FSA is always ready to help teachers.

Students Discover Teaching Interests

FTA members Melanie Bolles, Robin Lemo, Diane Tavarone, and Vice President, Jo Landen, frequently stay after school to help teachers grade and file papers.

Coral Park's Future Teachers of America is a local chapter of the national association. The club is dedicated to helping the school's students discover the opportunities offered to those interested in a teaching career. The membership participated in teaching days at local elementary schools and a day of teaching at Coral Park. Throughout the year the girls assisted teachers by grading papers, and learned of the responsibilities attached to the job of handling 150 students each day. Members contributed 5 hours of service every 6 weeks, and the executive board and the sponsor, Miss Mary Clemmens, elected a "member of the year."

At the year's close the 40-odd members took a field trip to the University of Miami, where they observed education classes.

GAA Bounces Off To An Active Year

To further the interest in sports for all girls is the major goal of the Girls Athletic Association, sponsored by Miss Gerri Handler. Membership in the club is open to all those who have earned one hundred or more points. Points are awarded for participation on a varsity team.

In early autumn the GAA sponsored a Powder Puff football game between the junior and senior class girls. The senior class proved its superiority by winning, though by only one touchdown. At Thanksgiving the members took an active part in the canned goods drive organized by Inter-club Council. Also in charge of after school intramurals, GAA affords everyone the opportunity to compete in several sports.

Thanksgiving arrived with a canned goods drive sponsored by GAA. Laura Webber designed and made the baskets, which were later given to charity.

The Coral Park Kingsmen, or the Chess Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Charles Wright, encourages participation in learning and improving the members' individual chess games.

This year the Kingsmen sponsored the chess tournaments with junior high schools in the area to promote the interest of younger groups in the game.

The club sponsored a school-wide tournament to prepare for the annual Dade County Tournament. In 1965-66 Coral Park was host for the county meet, and took first place in junior and senior competition, also defeating all other schools in overall competition.

Each year the Kingsmen award a trophy to the school's outstanding senior chess player. Placement in the school tournaments determines the recipient of the award.

Members Maintain Order In Library

Members of the Library Council serve the student body and faculty every school day. Susan Gillespie, president, has organized the activities this year to include shelving books, distributing magazines, and operating the equipment in the library acquired this year to facilitate efficient book traffic. Members helped students and teachers select materials and worked with librarians to maintain order in the often-crowded library.

Early in the year the first meeting of the Dade County Library Council was held at Coral Park, and Library Council members hosted. Guest speaker was Mrs. Bernice Connor, English teacher and author of Proud Rider.

Meeting as the need arises, the group's major goal was to provide the school with one or more hours of service each day.

Dance Club Swings With Modern Beat

With legs flying high, these members of the Modern Dance Club practice various routines which they performed at the third annual Coral Park Spring Dance Show in March.

In addition to furthering the arts of music and dance, the Modern Dance Club encourages leadership. Members of the organization attended the Modern Dance workshop at Miami-Dade Junior College in order to view and master the newest techniques in dancing.

This year the Club took part in assemblies, band and orchestra concerts, chorus programs, and pep-rallies. Under Mrs. Carol Dietrick's direction the girls also gave their own dance show.

The poise and coordination developed as a result of being active in the Modern Dance Club will prove invaluable to its members through life. An understanding of emotions portrayed in interpretive dance and a sensitivity to music are gained from participation in the club.

Membership Noted For Sound Ability

Mr. Arthemon Johnson, sponsor of the Noteables, has assisted the group in its various musical projects all year. Composed of music students, the Noteables has about thirty members. Their first main project was to play for the Honor Roll Tea in October. Several members participated in the December 15 orchestra concert held at Coral Park, and later the same month, members carolled. On Friday afternoons different groups of Noteables, especially Alicya Gutowski, Toree Gutowski, and Kathy Knight, played outside the main office to wish students and faculty a happy week-end.

The Haven School for Retarded Children was the site of a Noteables performance later in the year.

Officers for 1967 were Dave Sanders, Alicya Gutowski, Torree Gutowski, and Monica Rosenberg.

Pep Club A-Go-Go Tunes In On Spirit

Cheerleaders get excited as they cheer our team on. Cheryl Wolfe sits down on a bench at one of our games as Mike Uffenorde consoles her.

As in years past, instilling spirit was Pep club's major role in 1967. With the largest membership of any school club, it had a great deal of material with which to work. President, Cheryl Wolfe, and Van Vallone, vice president, coordinated the wishes of the student body with the stipulations of the faculty.

The year's biggest project, the creation of the Rammobile, was completed early in the first semester. It was present at most football games, along with another innovation, the touchdown siren.

Among other things, Pep also promoted pregame enthusiasm with spirit signs in all sports, decorated goal posts for home games, assumed charge of our mascot, Shadrack, and instigated the traditional Spirit Week in February.

Developed to inform students of the various opportunities offered by medical or medically related careers, the Para-Medical Club has worked toward this goal through a number of activities. The members read and discussed books, had guest speakers visit the school, and participated in forums and conventions in the different fields.

Club members began the year by helping at the United Cerebral Palsy Rehabilitation Center in Miami. They later attended a Para-Medical convention in West Palm Beach. Among the seminars they attended was one sponsored by the Floridian College of Medical Technology. The club also saw a film of the hospital ship, Hope.

The club's main project of the year was the establishment of a library of books on the many health and medical careers available to all students.

Staff Encourages Student Involvement

Coral Park's Rampage staff, headed by editor Eileen Nelson, chose as a goal in 1967 to increase student interest in the affairs of the school through its publications.

The staff, students who have had one or more years of journalism, proved their ability to write before assuming staff posts. Rampage advisor, Mr. Gerald Stone, placed as few regulations as possible on the staff. Working as a team, the twenty-two members tried to put out a paper every four weeks.

The staff participated in project "Quote," a project financed by a federal grant to the State Department of Education in Wisconsin. Presented to increase student involvement in government operations, the project consisted of five television interviews with important figures in education. The interviews were reported to the student body through the Rampage.

Rampages Supplement Athletic Competition

President Susan Gillespie directed her members through a brisk year. Rampages, a girl's service club which concentrates its service on athletic events, is sponsored by the Ram Booster Club. Dedicated to aiding the school with their projects, the girls often perform services that are taken for granted. One of their projects was the selling of football programs at the games. They assisted coaches at gymnastic, wrestling, and basketball meets, where one could find them selling and collecting admission tickets to the events and working behind concession booths. Members also sold programs at the State Wrestling Tournament, and helped officials.

The year was polished off with a co-ed party with a Coral Park boy's service club.

Boating Club Makes Sailors of Students

Organized in 1966, the sailing club is primarily an interest club. For new members the most important goal was to learn sailing skills. President Lewis Poag described the purpose of the club as being threefold: to teach sailing, to improve techniques, and to have fun.

At the year's start, members had to take and pass a swimming test to insure their safety in case of flipping while sailing. Boats were rented in week-ends from Castle Harbor boat rentals, and each member contributed to the rental price. Mrs. Sylvia Kuvin, the club's sponsor, accompanied the group on Saturday morning outings. Members invited several guests speakers from various Miami sailing groups to speak on sailing and water safety at club meetings.

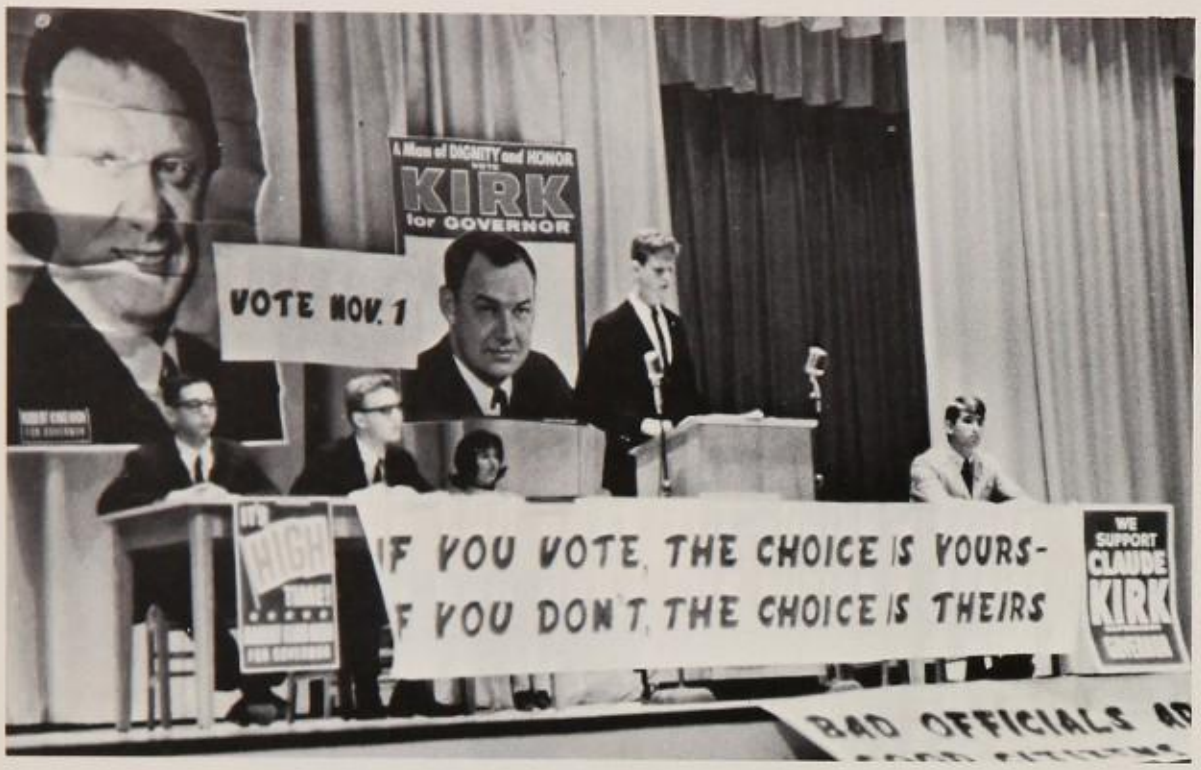
Social Studies Aids Students and Gov't.

Mrs. Roberta Shevin, sponsor of the Social Studies Club, led its members in the participation of several projects this year. One of the first was a survey to find out what the seniors thought of last year's prom and to determine what could be done to improve it.

During the election time, several students from the club presented assemblies for the seniors and the eleventh grade T.V. history class. The assemblies consisted of debates concerning the elected versus the appointed sheriff issue and speeches covering the political platforms of Robert King High and Claude Kirk. The debates preceeded a school-wide mock election. Outstanding among the year's other projects was a season's greetings card drive for the servicemen in Viet Nam.



Marc Jampole, Sheldon, Konigsberg, Lynne Lear, and Ray Carifio listen attentively as Ken Berger debates in favor of appointive sheriff. The issue was later voted upon school-wide.

Early in the year the sophomore board organized a special sophomore pep rally in preparation for the Coral Park-Southwest junior varsity football game. With president Marc Einhorn, vice-president Elvia Hernandez, treasurer Dolores Fizell, and secretary Pam Pecha as its officers, the sophomore board worked diligently planning activities for the year.

At Christmas time, the members helped decorate the school's Christmas tree, and contributed hours decorating the cafeteria with season's greetings messages. In February, teachers were pleasantly surprised when they received Valentine's Day corsages—gifts from the sophomore class. Though the junior class organized the project, the sophomore board helped make the popular Valentine roses possible.

Miss Barbara Silver and Mr. Charles Evans were the class sponsors.

The one major goal and purpose of the junior board is to organize and successfully give the seniors their senior prom at the end of the year. President Jay Veber and class officers worked steadily all year with board members to organize numerous prom committees. Faculty sponsors for the busy group were Mrs. Marsha Reisman and Mr. Angelo Durante, who guided monthly meetings.

Other projects were headed by the distribution of junior class football tags. A junior-senior football game was played, from which seniors walked with bowed heads.

Juniors took orders for American Beauty roses, and in homeroom on Valentine's Day the roses were delivered to the senders' sweethearts.

The senior prom, 'Evening in Paradise', was held early in June at the Dupont Plaza.

Activities Planned By Senior Board

Led by officers Steve Phillips, Louis Wallen, Laurie Etkin, and Irene Lirakis, senior board members had an active year.

In November, working with the Student Council, the board co-sponsored the Homecoming activities. Its major responsibility was to successfully organize the Homecoming Court and the half-time proceedings. The annual senior superlatives were also sponsored by the senior board. Held in February, the entire senior class attended a general meeting to vote on the nominees for the twelve categories.

After sponsoring the Senior Sweetheart Dance in March, senior board members climaxed their year with a variety of graduation activities. It promoted the senior dress-up and senior bermuda days, and supervised the awards assembly and senior class night.

Student Government Functions By Action

The first Student Council project was the holding of the sophomore Orientation assembly, before the beginning of the school year. The Student Council was also successful in instigating the completion of the new S.W. 12 Street behind the school.

In November the group backed the Homecoming activities which consisted of an Alumni Day, a pep rally in the afternoon, the sock hop after the North Miami game. Student Council members sponsored the annual Christmas Dance at YMHA and decided to purchase a permanent podium in the future.

At Easter they provided the homerooms with baskets for homeroom members to fill. Later the baskets were returned to the Student Council and were distributed to underprivileged families.

Another project undertaken was the revision of the Constitution.

I.C.C. Encourages School-Wide Drive

Led by President Tina Woolf, Inter-Club Council sponsored the two yearly boy-girl service club rushes. The dozens of cookies left over from the rushes were donated to Variety Childrens' Hospital. Later in the year I.C.C. sponsored a talk on sororities and fraternities. Speakers for the evening were Florida Legislator Mr. Murray Dubbin, and editor of the Guide newspaper, Mr. Pat Murphy.

In November the group initiated a school-wide canned goods drive to supplement the Thanksgiving dinners of needy families. Hundreds of canned items were contributed.

American Education Week was promoted by Inter-Club Council to emphasize the importance of education today. The club members, who are school club presidents, advertised for Back-to-School Night and served as hosts and hostesses for the event.

Club presidents Sharon Fogel, Ricky Weissinger, Fran Fodiman, and Lynne Lear, make some important decisions for the 1967 yearbook.

Anchor Contributes Continuous Service

Attending an after-school meeting, Anchor members enthusiastically discuss their next service project.

In September Anchor conducted a book drive for Jackson Hospital. The girls made 175 wash cloths for the Children's Cardiac Hospital and Variety Hospital. They collected for Muscular Dystrophy, the United Fund, the Leukemia Foundation, and the Heart Fund. At Thanksgiving two dinners were donated to families. Year-long projects included supplying the teachers' lounge with cookies each Monday, advertising all football games and most sports and social events, and helping to support several families through the Economic Opportunity Program.

During Christmas vacation Anchor sent a basket to another family, made Christmas cards for an old folks home, baked cookies for the custodians, and carolled at Robert King High Towers. Members decorated for the football banquet and stuffed envelopes for the Easter Seal Campaign.

Crescent Members Use Elbow Grease

Among the projects of Crescent, (Jr. Civitan), was the selling of Claxton Fruit Cakes at Christmas. The Miami Civitans, sponsor of the club, helped the boys' project. With some of the other service clubs, Crescent sanded seats in the auditorium. Other projects included the weeding of the walks in front of the school and monitoring at pep rallies. Early in the year several of the Crescent members went to the Bay Oaks Old Folks Home, and did yard work. On October 20, 1966, Crescent hosted a discussion on illegal clubs which was held in the auditorium. Members alsc cleaned glass windows and display cases throughout the school.

Junior Civitans held its annual Christmas Dance on December 17, 1966, and had a mixer party with Sorrota.

First to be organized as a girls' service club at Coral Park, Delta tries to fulfill its motto of "helping the school, the community, and the nation."

President Cheryl Sommers has headed the members in a variety of activities. In October the girls collected for the muscular Dystrophy drive and many volunteered their aid at Westchester General Hospital for one day a week as candy stripers. The club brightened the Christmas of an underprivileged family by donating clothes, food, and gifts during the holiday season.

In the second semester members worked on the Easter seal campaign and made clowns for the Immigrant Center in February. Dukes for the 1966-1967 year were seniors George Drake and Mike Womack.

Madelyn Goldenberg and Nora Restrepo are busily at work outside the auditorium selling tickets for the annual Miami Coral Park Capers. Other members of Delta also helped usher during the Capers.

One of the many projects of Delta is assisting teachers with secretarial work, such as grading papers, which Nora Resrepo is doing after school.

Active Boys Build Solid Communities

Sponsored by Rotary Club, Interact started its year by working before school commenced at the Variety Children's Hospital Bar-B-Corn. Early in the year the members made welcome signs directing new students to classes. It provided the band with drinks at football games, and at basketball games roped off the playing area.

Members worked at the Cerebral Palsy center clearing the grounds in November, and sandpapered and varnished many seats in our auditorium. In an annual project, the club provided Christmas dinners for several families and collected newspapers throughout the year to help support a family.

Later, to add to a long list of accomplishments, ITA aided the Boy Scouts in a Good Will Industries campaign and helped monitor the Science Fair.

Interact Club is made up of energetic and serious minded (although this picture fails to show it) young men. As one of the most active of the service clubs, Interact has helped the community in its year-long plans for community progress.

Interact boys rest after a hard day's work at the Cerebral Palsy Center. The boys cleared the grounds in order to improve the looks of the building.

To "initiate personal responsibility" is the purpose of Key Club International and Coral Park's branch of Key took an active part in school and community civic affairs to fulfill this goal. Sponsored by both the Tamiami and Coral Way Kiwanis Clubs, Key aids in the many projects of its senior organization. Many hours were devoted to the annual Kiwanis Youth Fair and Muscular Dystrophy Drive. Key also organized many of its own projects, which ranged from donating toys and working at local orphanages to participation in Coral Park's Capers, both on and off stage.

Key members also engaged in many social activities. Besides parties, the club sponsored a boat ride after the prom. In April, the club officers attended a state convention in Jacksonville.

Sorrota Members Continue Service

The main project for Sorrota this year was doing service for the Bay Oaks Old Folks Home. At Halloween, the members gave the people at Bay Oaks a party. The girls played bingo year-round with them, and those with sewing know-how mended dresses for the ladies. Others wrote letters or read to those who couldn't read. The club often advertised sports events through posters, and at Christmas, Sorrota collected toys and clothes to send to Appalachia. In this project, the girls were aided by Soroptomist, the sponsor organization.

In the spring, members sorted envelopes for Easter seals, hosted a city Sorrota convention, and sponsored the now-traditional inter-club volleyball tournament. In October, they had a party with Crescent.

Sunsettes Promotes Spirited Good Will

Sponsored by Mrs. Betty Jo Riley and Miss Shirley Riggs, Sunsettes started its service year off by continuing with its Teacher Aid program. In September the girls, led by president Candi Logue, stuffed envelopes for the March of Dimes. The members tagged for the Muscular Dystrophy campaign in October, and made toy-bags for Variety Children's Hospital. At Thanksgiving, Sunsette girls initiated a toy and clothes drive for the Economic Opportunity Program and gave a Thanksgiving party for a group of underprivileged children. A Christmas social, the Progressive Dinner, took place in December.

In the spring the club held its mother-daughter installation and sponsored teacher appreciation day. Members baked cookies for the Senior Sweetheart Dance in March, and the club held its formal in April.

Congratulates
the Class of '67

Rina Cohan

The pleasant experiences and activities of your life are enhanced immeasurably by warm friendships already gained. Let them be continually rekindled throughout the coming years! Helping to bond these friendships today and for many tomorrows is the rewarding experience of Jefferson Portrait Studio, your official school photographer.

May there be many opportunities for Jefferson Portrait Studio to provide time-stopping fine photography of your life's future happy events.

A Final Word

The composition of a yearbook is a difficult undertaking for it should contain so many things, both material and immaterial. With this idea in mind, the staff set about to present the story of one year of school life. The book, at last, is finished; the last deadline has been met.

Without the assistance of Mr. Gerald Stone, our advisor, the '67 Arieon could never have been finished. Special thanks goes to the faculty and to the Arieon staff for their help and their devotion. We also wish to thank Mr. Lon Watters of Taylor Publishing Company for his helpful suggestions in the production of this book.

We hope that this annual will help you to recall some of the memories of your years at Coral Park.

Lynne Lear

Nick,

It's been fun this year hasn't it ?! Try not to talk out so much & may Miss Parks will like you ! H/A -H

Dear Nick -

Its been great getting to know you & have a real sweet guy as a friend. Thanks for all the homework help you've given me this year - and really, I had a lot of laughs in math. Sorry I'll be missing the end of our friendship - but I'll see you around next year, and in the summer, lots of good times. Love ya,

Nancy

Nick:
You a real sweet kid in my Biology class, good luck in the future and best of luck with the girls, keep up the good jokes...

Dear Nick,
Its been a real sweet year, & I'm so glad that I was able to stay friends with you all the way through. Thanks for all the homework help you've given me this year - and really, I had a lot of laughs in math. Sorry I'll be missing the end of our friendship - but I'll see you around next year, and in the summer, lots of good times. Love ya,

Nancy
